Pris Pastruck

You've been just a great locker partner for 1-2-3-4-5 years
now. You'll have to put up with me another year. Good luck.

Nona

Priscilla

Congratulations! I am so happy for you. We will have so much fun next year; I don't wait. Now
I can even get to know you better. You're so sweet, smart, and cute.
I know you will so for mine.

Pris - I was so glad I was able to break the news
to you about Drill Team. Congratulations!
You really deserve.
Pris I have known
you a long time and
your achievements
are many but a girl as great as you (and as talented)
deserve it.

Love and Luck
Jinda Temme
(God bless you)

Pris - What can I say at the end of a wonderful junior year? Hasn't it been fun being together in English, working on Prom, in National Honor Society? (I forget French Club)

But the greatest of all is going to be Drill Team. I'm so happy for you - It's one of the greatest things that ever happened to me.
It's great having you a part of the family.

Hope to see you this summer
often - in summer school and

Prio-
I'm so happy for
you. Best of luck next year on Drill Team. I only wish I could share the happiness with you. I know you'll have a ball. Never forget all of the good times we had together working on PROM. You did a wonderful job on invitations - (+ clouds + clouds + clouds.)
Come see me in Salt Lake City. Love ya.

Pris -
You have been a real time pleasure to know. You'll make drill team great this year - aren't you excited! I would be for sure. Pris, I hope we get to know each other better in coming years (next year). You are really a wonderful girl to know.
Good luck and God bless you!
Love Jerry Manson

I love you!

Pris -

I just can't believe it took me until Prom to get to know you well. I really missed a tremendous friendship. Sorry
we started late

You have so much on the ball - looks, intelligence, a great personality. I can tell you're faced for success.
Love & God bless you

Our year, 1965-1966 at Shawnee Mission, East, began.

We were faced with a myriad of experiences,
people, ideas, moods. . .

Hesitancy before meeting new people. . .

Eager readiness to see old friends. . .

A sense of familiar newness permeated the corridors and rooms; while we recognized each desk and blackboard, the words that would be written were strange to us. . .

Stifling congestion on a staircase. . .

Personal loneliness in the masses. . .

Confidence in ourselves,
that we would make all the correct choices. . .

Indecision while choosing a club, a lunch, a college. . .

The groping search for the identity of our school and of ourselves;
of each team and its members; of each play and its actors; of each class and its leaders; but primarily,
the search for ourselves. . .

Whispering pride in our nation. . .
Screaming pride in our school. . .

Our moods were all these, and more.

But always,
The mood was expectancy.

frustration as a custodian couldn't be located. . .
 monotony of repeated
 intercom messages. . .
 excitement of blueprints for new schools. . .
 at N.H.S. time, mounting disgust as complaints from worried parents piled up. . .
 embarrassment answering a note in a gym suit. . .
 unflustered proficiency in typing up letters, lists, and more letters. . .
 the utter boredom of routine. . .
 frantic rush as each student wanted
 his S.A.T. scores at the same time that the intercom called and three college representatives arrived. . .
 the unpleasantness of discipline—eighth hours, warnings, lectures, suspension. . .
 chaos as 328 seniors came to the auditorium to hear the K.U. representative. . .
 temporary panic followed by regained composure
 when a false bomb was found on a desk. . .

The Administration was all these, and more.

But always,
 The mood was efficiency.

District Directors Harmonize Inter-School Activities

MR. CARL ISON, Principal.
Kansas State College, B.S.; University of Missouri at Kansas City, M.A.

DR. HOWARD D. McEACHEN, Superintendent.

Administrators Plan

DR. HERBERT I. BRUNING, Assistant Superintendent

Eleven schools filled to capacity and construction of two new buildings kept the administration busy. Hours of careful planning were devoted to harmonizing activities and coordinating business for each school.

Tracing district policies patterned by the Board of Education was the job of superintendent Dr. Howard McEachen. Academic opportunities were expanded through scheduled meetings with principals, curriculum consultants, and the Board of Education. Collectively they dealt with curriculum planning and revision, analyzed textbooks, and considered the difficulties of rapidly increasing enrollment.

Working to correlate school activities with district procedures, Mr. Carl Ison, principal of Shawnee Mission East, interpreted policy, supervised teachers, managed complaints, and studied Student Congress motions submitted to his desk for approval. District and community cooperation demonstrated efficient coordination at administrative levels.

BOARD OF EDUCATION—Front Row: Mr. Henry M. Turrell, Dr. John O. Baeke, Dr. Robert Matthews. Back Row: Mr. Roy E. Welch, Mr. Richard V. Garrett.

Policies, Curriculum Expansion, and New Schools

DISTRICT COORDINATORS AND DIRECTORS—Front Row: Mrs. Betty Cozad, Speech Therapist; Herbert L. Bruning, Assistant Superintendant of Curriculum; Floyd G. Hudson, Director of Special Services; Gayle T. Chubb, Director of Personal; Ronald W. Brooks, School Psychologist. Back Row: James J. Harmon, Assistant Director of Curriculum; R. Elvin Miller, Guidance and Testing Coordinator; Leonard Molotsky, Coordinator of Science and Math.

Serving as the nucleus for all district activities, the district Administration building caters to the needs of area supervisors.

MR. ART NEWCOMER, Vice-Principal.
Bethany College, B.A.; Fort Hays State College, M.S.

Enlarged Shawnee Mission East enrollment brought increased duties to vice-principals and counselors. Preparing and supervising the club program became Mr. Arthur Newcomer's primary assignment in his first year as vice-principal. Mr. Richard Trast dealt with students needing disciplinary action, channeled the parking lot maze, and planned assemblies.

Four competent counselors worked with the vice-principals. Harmony between the individual and his unique role in school affairs was a main concern of Miss Gene Criley, Mr. Harold Gersh, Mr. Philip Larson, and Mrs. Vinita Stevens in handling pupils' indecision in class schedules. Each counselor administered one of the standardized tests which detected aptitudes in learning and determined inclinations toward college life. Chaperoning school functions was one of counselors' roles in extra-curricular life.

Instruction, suggestion, and service given by vice-principals and counselors gave faculty and students a dependable advisory source.

Waiting to speak, Mr. Trast, Mr. Newcomer, and Mr. Ison listen to another Orientation Day talk.

PTA Turns Suggestions to Organized Projects

Ignoring campaign posters, parents follow their child's daily routine after a hard day at home or in the office.

The Parent-Teachers Association met to combine ideas from all phases of high school learning to form a more efficient system of educational communication.

To recruit members and introduce parents to their children's source of education, the PTA held its annual Back-to-School night. On October 23 more than three thousand persons attended the third consecutive college clinic. Representatives from over seventy universities and colleges assembled to explain requirements of higher education. The February career clinic gave students guidance in choosing an appropriate profession. The topic of discussion at the April meeting was college drop-outs.

While acquainting parents with the administration, the Parent-Teachers Association provided adults with a more lucid understanding of relationships between youth and faculty.

Office Personnel Perform Essential Business Jobs

OFFICE LADIES—Mrs. Marsha Hoffman, Mrs. Elizabeth Parks, Mrs. Mary Rhue, Mrs. Ella Louise Walter, Mrs. Rose Piper, Mrs. Norma Jorgensen.

MRS. BONNIE HENSLEIGH, Nurse

Ordering buses and paging custodians, the office staff aided the administration in details of school management. Secretaries and clerks worked to maintain maximum efficiency.

The attendance clerk was responsible for signing excuses and compiling lists of absent students, while other secretaries typed letters and scheduled appointments for Mr. Ison and the counselors. With the aid of office assistants, communications flowed smoothly under the capable direction of the switchboard operator. The registrar recorded grades on office transcripts, as the bookkeeper balanced the budget and processed requisitions. Dispensing band-aids and taking temperatures, the nurse treated cut fingers and sprained ankles. Each member of the staff played a necessary role, contributing to a well-managed school.

Cooks and Custodians Maintain Spotless Nutrition

So he may continue with his work, Mr. Bill Davis takes a break from his maintenance job to refuel an empty gas tank.

Ike Shapiro takes a break from answering intercom calls from frantic teachers.

MR. RALPH REED, Head Custodian

Two parts of the administrative division, the cafeteria and custodial staffs performed jobs often unnoticed and unappreciated.

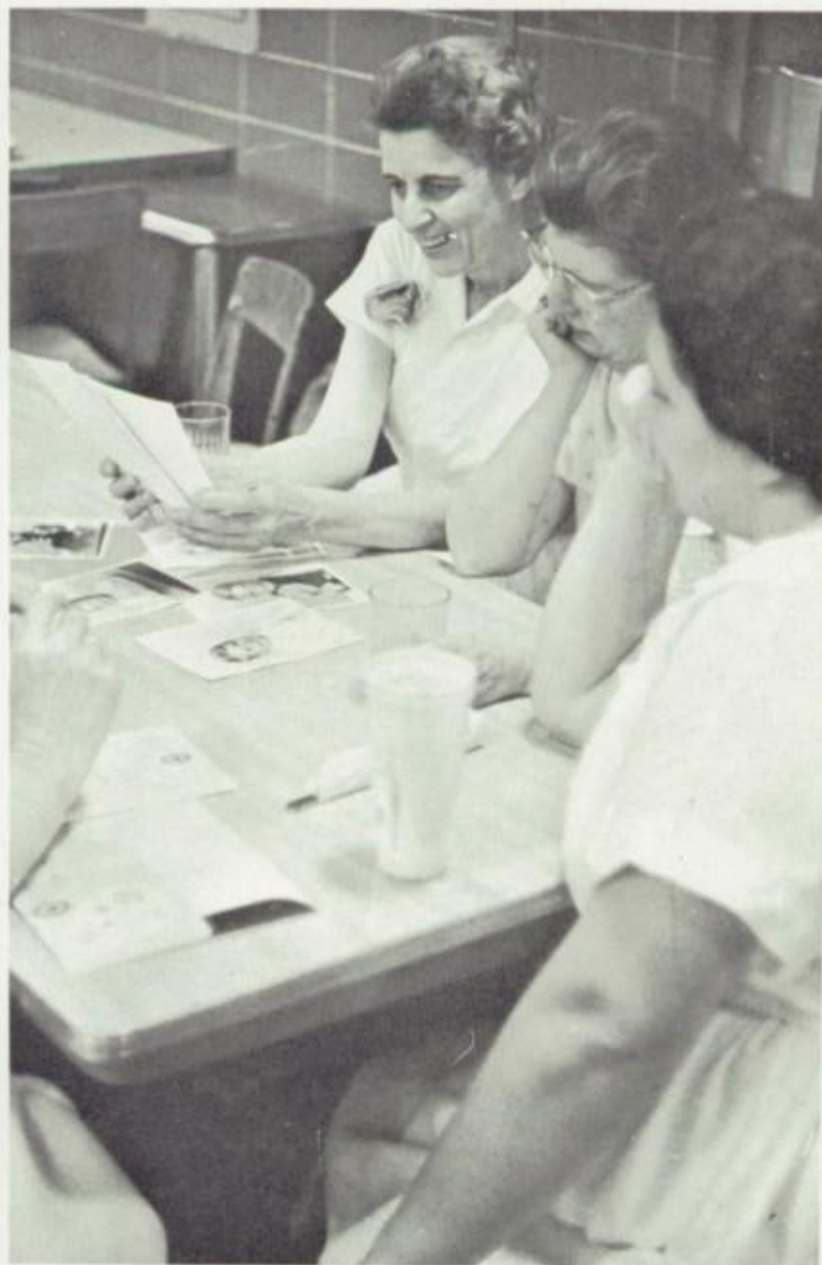

While students worked in classrooms, Mrs. Marietta Jack's assistants labored over pots, pans, and endless lunch lines. Meals met with strict nutritional requirements as well as the approval of 2500 students and teachers. Two complete lunches and a la carte items provided a choice for students saving either money or calories. The ladies also cooked holiday meals and continental specialties for student banquets.

The custodians, headed by Mr. Ralph Reed, kept the school's mechanisms in working order. Maintenance personnel aided both students and teachers by fixing jammed lockers, cleaning up after parties, opening doors to early-comers on frosty days, and taking gum off desks.

MRS. MARIETTA JACK, Cafeteria Head

Relaxing after the strain of managing crowded lunch periods, cafeteria ladies proudly compare pictures of grandchildren.

Academics

giddiness because a teacher became engaged. . .
 exultation as a two-page
 math proof worked out. . .
 drowsiness in a boring lecture. . .
 curiosity inspired by a good teacher. . .
 shocked realization when the week of semesters arrived and none of the planned studying was done. . .
 disappointment when an answer wouldn't come. . .
 the adventurous spirit changed to routine as a 7:15 class became the usual instead of the unusual. . .
 resignation as the Viet Nam war was discussed again. . .
 complete senior relief—no more semester exams. . .
 entranced concentration. . .
 embarrassed panic when none of the dials in the language lab brought back a familiar voice, and no one else around knew just what to do. . .
 satisfaction at a nearly perfect left turn. . .
 momentary disgust when someone talked too loud in the library. . .

Academics was all these, and more.

But always,
 The mood was study.

Unable to Escape Heat and Humidity, Students

Taking a break from humid classrooms and intense study, summer school students relax and talk over ice cream, soda pop and candy bars.

Evading the ruling of no shoes without socks, Charlie Buck simply drops both socks and shoes during summer school.

New circumstances faced summer school students: up-dated textbooks, varied curriculum, and earlier hours. The atmosphere was casual; shorts and sandals set the style for the four-hour day which included two refreshment breaks. Keeping up with modern trends, summer school progressively catered to both the remedial and accelerated student. Courses added this year included basic reading, applied science, and English I. Man's World, for world history enthusiasts, and the BSCS Biology series were used for the first time during the eight week session. To fill state requirements, classes began fifteen minutes earlier than last year. Mr. David Schmidt, serving for the second year as coordinator, was one of the few familiar faces of the summer administration. He commanded a staff of thirty-five who instructed the 825 pupils. Small classes and individual attention paralleled the informal attire. Mr. Schmidt, with the cooperation of the teachers, worked to keep summer school running efficiently.

Supplement Winter Courses

MR. DAVID SCHMIDT, Principal of Summer School

As others wait for a chance for refreshments, Philip McManis takes a break for a soft drink and a doughnut.

Discussing which bathing suits to wear, Jill Vance and Pam Houts leave summer school.

Reading in a casual atmosphere of shorts and bare feet, Cathy Robinson tries to ignore heat and humidity and concentrate on her studies.

Chemistry textbooks and pages of complicated equations welcome early-comers as teachers begin lectures in zero-hour classes.

An experiment in education was initiated at Shawnee Mission East this year. The zero-hour program offered three courses for seniors: chemistry, citizenship, and auto mechanics II.

The zero-hour courses, beginning at 7:15 each morning, were developed with the working student in mind. Because they came to school early, the 100 students in this program could leave for after-school jobs at 1:00 PM instead of the usual departure time of 3:30 PM. Students who participated in the program could take five hours of courses, but they could not have activity period under the new schedule.

The new curriculum brought out one major complaint from students involved in it. Coming to school at 7:15 meant getting up an hour earlier. Although participating in the zero-hour program meant forfeiting after-school activities, students found this new program profitable both in and out of school.

Zero Hour Attracts Sleepy Minds

Attempting to generate oxygen, Craig Wolfe struggles to keep his gas jar from slipping and dousing his workbook with water.

In the silence and solitude of early morning, tired students meander into school to face teachers and tests.

Craig Wallingford pauses at his car for a last minute's rest before going into school.

Ignoring classmates and a citizenship discussion, Steve Bagby gives into temptation and tries to regain lost sleep.

Combating sleepiness and lack of audience attention, Diane Sawyer gets ready to explain the purpose of the United Nations' special agencies.

Between My Sister Mike and Around the World in Eighty Days, Dana Brekke and Barb Heathman disregard library rules and carry on a quiet conversation. Not afraid of being caught, the girls pretend to be searching high and low for books.

The tensions of taking notes, carrying out complicated laboratory procedures, and straining for answers during examinations were left behind as students entered the refuge of study halls. Cafeteria tables and quiet offered an opportunity to do homework, study for approaching tests, or write letters.

For those working on long range projects, the library supplied a welcome source of information. Librarians Miss Lane and Mrs. Evans, aided by student assistants, processed twelve newspapers, one hundred twelve periodicals, and over twelve thousand books. Paperback volumes and a photo-copier added to other resources. All literature was selected to supplement class work, for research and outside reading.

Ambitious students utilized study halls and the library to augment classroom work.

A weary student uses his books as a pillow and his desk as a bed, as he tries to catch up on his sleep.

Orators and Actors Gain Experience in Performance,

Say, Thus did Banquo.
1 Mur. You made it known to us.
Macb. I did so; and went further, which is now
 Our point of second meeting. Do you find Your patience so predominant in your nature,
 That you can let this go? Are you so gospell'd,
 To pray for this good man, and for his issue,
 Whose heavy hand hath bow'd you to the grave,
 And beggar'd yours for ever?
1 Mur. We are men, my liege.
Macb. Ay, in the catalogue ye go for men; [curs,
 As hounds, and greyhounds, mongrels, spaniels,
 Shoughs, water-rugs, and demi-wolves, are cleped
 All by the name of dogs: the valued file
 Distinguishes the swift, the slow, the subtle,
 The housekeeper, the hunter, every one
 According to the gift which bounteous nature
 Hath in him clos'd; whereby he does receive Particular addition, from the bill
 That writes them all alike: and so of me.
 Now, if you have a station in the file,
 Not in the worst rank of manhood, say it;
 And I will put that business in your bosoms
 Whose execution takes your enemy off;
 Grapples you to the heart and love of us,
 Who wear our health but sickly in his life,
 Which in his death were perfect.
2 Mur. I am one, my liege,
 Whom the vile blows and buffets of the world
 Have so incens'd, that I am reckless what I do, to spite the world. 1 Mur. And I another,
 So weary with disasters, tugg'd with fortune,
 That I would set my life on any chance
 To mend it, or be rid on't.
Macb. Both of you Know, Banquo was your enemy.
2 Mur. True, my lord.
Macb. So is he mine; and in such bloody distance,
 That every minute of his being thrusts
 Against my near'st of life: And though I could
 With bare-fac'd poyser sweep him from my sight,
 And bid my will avouch it, yet I must not,
 For certain friends that are both his and mine,
 Whose loves I may not drop, but wail his fall

SCENE II.—The same. At

 Unsafe the while, that we Must live our honours in these
 And make our faces vizards to Disguising what they are.
Lady M. You

An illustrated version of MacBeth's conversation with hired murderers demonstrates to an interested junior the mood of the famous Shakespearean tragedy.

Changes in the English department this year brought new life to literature and broadened the scope of technical skills.

Sophomores received new grammar and short story books. Additional importance was placed on novel reading, as The Scarlet Letter, Moby Dick, The Red Badge of Courage, and The Bridge of San Luis Rey were added to the curriculum. Enriched classes received literature books with more complete contents. Juniors saw films which supplemented study of history and literature. A vocabulary crash program plus Introduction to Literary Criticism aided students in writing compositions. While most seniors took college preparatory English classes, many seniors included new terminal English IV courses stressing practical reading and writing skills. A rapid reading program helped seniors meet the requirement of 900 pages per six weeks period.

Changes in Shawnee Mission East's English classes gave teachers the opportunity to instill a more thorough understanding of our means of communication—the English language.

Listening to a classmate's oration, Linda Norris prepares to constructively criticize the extemporaneous talk.

Polishing Technique

Progressing from basic to advanced skills, speech and drama students mastered personal expression in individual acting and speaking.

Co-ordination of body and voice was students' goal in dramatic interpretation. Having acquired individual dexterity on stage, classmates combined talents in pantomimes, dialogues, scenes, and one-act plays.

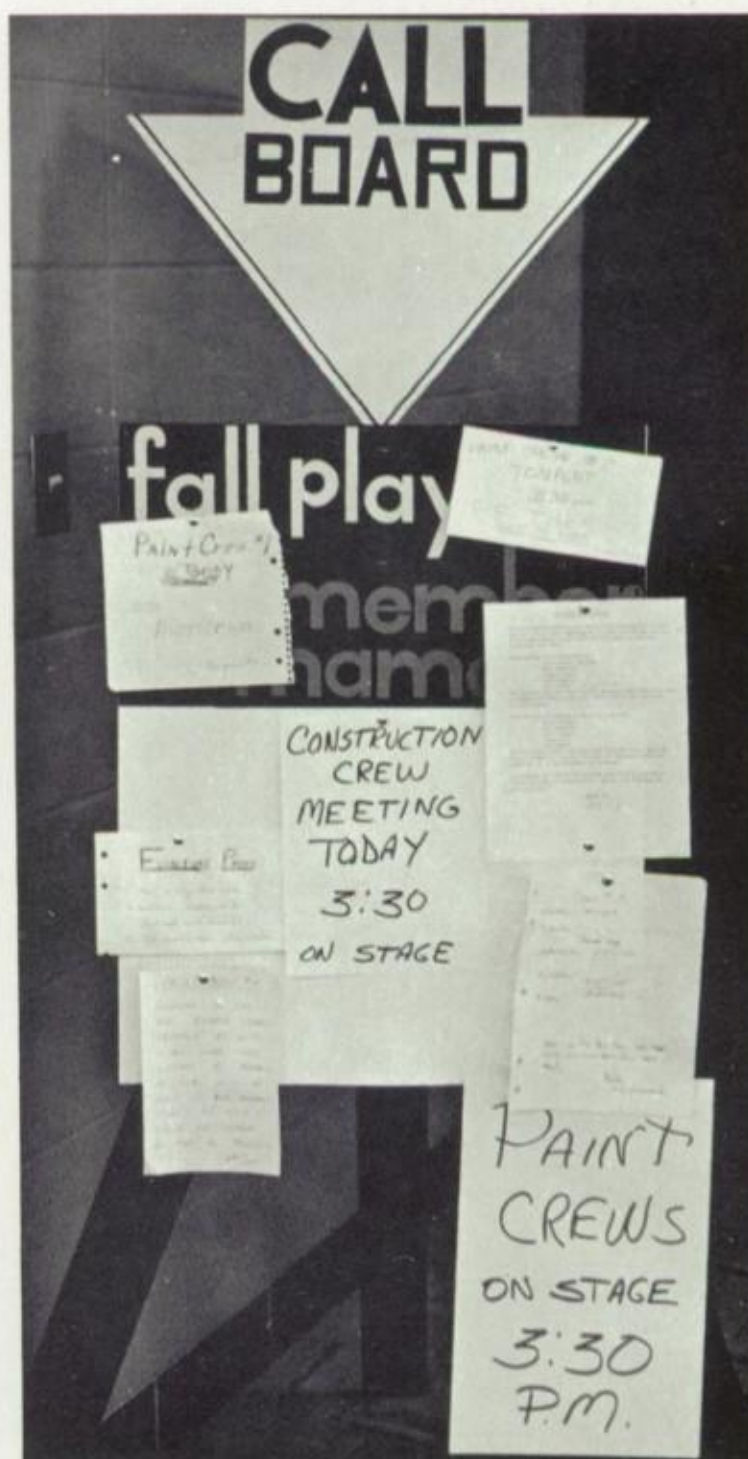

Impromptu addresses led speech pupils to two- and five-minute discourses. Pantomimes, demonstrations, and poetry deliveries accompanied improvement in tone, composition, and organization of speeches. Final verification of proficiency in public recitation was each speaker's fifteen minute oration.

Evolving to accomplished performers, drama and speech students developed uncultivated talents into effectual styles.

Books, Labs, and Lectures

New textbooks and teaching techniques introduced students to the complex studies of biology, physics, and chemistry. Curious minds were stimulated through lectures and labs.

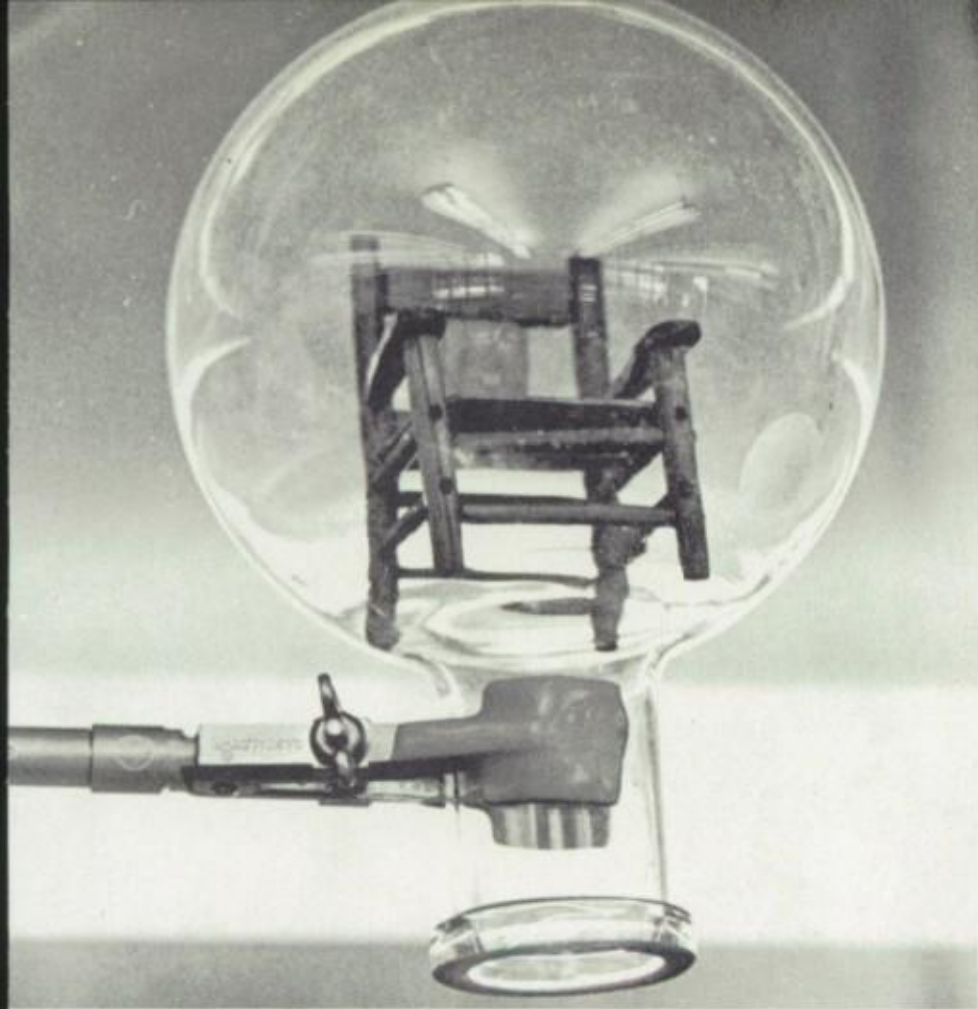

Individual research encouraged development of original conclusions. Concentrating on laboratory investigations, Biology I and II pupils analyzed growth of plants and development of higher organisms. Physics classes examined forms of energy and properties of matter in motion and at rest, while learning to use slide rules as a practical means of solving problems. Novice chemists increased their laboratory experience by utilizing applicable formulas, often obtaining smoking test tubes and foul-smelling chemical reactions. Technical physics and chemistry classes focused attention on more mathematics and laboratory work.

Absorbing new scientific knowledge, students formed a basis for a more complete understanding of the mysteries of the universe.

Equations in three variables widen Jim Brennan's mathematical understanding.

Reacquainting themselves with parallelograms, empty sets, and trigonometric functions, interested students continued their mathematical studies. As their computational skills increased, numerical scholars became adept at using slide rules and logarithmic tables. Aided by teachers and using applicable postulates, pupils solved algebraic equations with ease.

A diversified program adjusted to several levels of interests and abilities was offered to mathematics students. Sophomore Geometry and Algebra I pupils learned the applications of basic theorems and formulas, while juniors pondered the principles of Algebra II and Trigonometry. The intricacies of Analytic Geometry, Calculus, and Trigonometry challenged senior scholars as they acquired knowledge of complex numbers and quadratic formulas.

With accuracy and increased understanding of mathematics as their goals, students completed a year of textbooks and tables.

Using Known Parallels

The intensifying turmoil of today's world influenced learning trends for social science students. Those who dealt with World History found that their investigation of humanity from primitive to jet-age environment aided them in reasoning with motives of mankind today. Students interested in interplay of national interests examined International Relations.

While some pupils explored the world situation, others inspected happenings on a national level. Taking knowledge from updated textbooks, American History scholars used their studies to arrive at a basic concept of America. Economics classes gained new knowledge of handling national wealth. Each senior in Citizenship equipped himself to benefit the world as an alert and informed American citizen.

Diligent study rewarded social science students with a new awareness of past events and their effects on the present and future.

Skilled personnel were trained to compete in the complex business world through ceaseless drill of technical knowledge and study of legal procedures and economic patterns.

The endless tapping of keyboards denoted future secretaries at work. Clerical practice students studied typing in depth and advanced to study in dictation, utilizing dictaphones and soundscibers. Acquainting themselves with duplicating machines and filing systems, students learned office skills.

Business law and economics courses taught the legal complexities of contracts, bailment, controlling interests, and debentures. Financiers learned the process of avoiding the "red" and contemplated the ups and downs of an uncertain stock market. Potential businessmen observed the mechanics of automated work as they studied the latest technical equipment.

Artistic Inventions from Imagination and Industry

Trying to broaden knowledge of technique, arts and crafts students found their talent as well as their perception was diversified.

Art students gained knowledge of methods by experimentation with oil paint, water colors, India ink, and charcoal. Palette knives as well as standard brushes aided varied means of self-expression. Students not only criticized their own works, but evaluated their classmates' creations. Budding artists entered their works in contests and exhibited them in both school and local exhibitions.

Craftsmen explored artistic proportions by creating three-dimensional wood sculpture, metal jewelry, and wood reliefs. Wire sculptures and mobiles met with specifications of balance and weight. By the end of the year, rings, cuff links, and bracelets filled the showcases next to the crafts rooms.

Ann Ladewig employs paintbrush and water color in displaying her artistic ingenuity to a skeptical painter, Kathy Richie.

Struggling language students became fluent linguists as they utilized one hour of concentrated instruction each day. Correct accent, versatility, and grammar comprehension constituted their goals. One new face in the field of Spanish, and a new staff of French teachers contributed to this expanding language program.

German philosophy, Roman battle strategy, Spanish novels, and French pen pals supplemented advanced courses. Habitual drill aided by complex recording equipment improved diction, polished grammatical constructions, and familiarized students with complicated verb forms.

Extra-curricular activities were introduced on scholastic agendas. French journalists endeavored to produce magazines, as Spanish playwrights directed performances in their language. National elections intrigued German scholars, while Latin classes devoted efforts to planning a banquet in Roman tradition. A challenging study program instilled regard for new cultures within conscientious linguists.

Fields and Gyms Harbor Individual and Team Athletics

After a semester of calisthenics, a seventh hour gym class produces choice specimens of physical fitness and athletic motivation.

Hardy shouts and low moans echoed from the gymnasium and athletic field as physical education students experienced the excitement of competition and the strain of calisthenics.

Students not only acquired skills in athletics, but also developed speed and coordination through exercises. Boys played soccer and softball in the fall, while girls played hockey and football. With the advent of cold weather, the classes moved inside to begin basketball and volleyball. A special course including weight-training and isometric contraction helped boys increase their strength and endurance. Girls found that fencing and ping-pong gave them added grace and agility. During the spring, the girls' classes took up tennis, softball, and archery. Track, softball, and soccer served as the highlights of the boys' program as the year ended.

In addition to providing students with athletic opportunities, the physical education courses prepared them for active, healthy lives.

Shielding his face from flying wood shavings, James Duke turns a block of wood into a usable vase.

Students enrolled in the practical arts worked to develop manual dexterity. Young architects perfected precise drafting techniques, while novice home-builders studied basic concepts of mechanical drawing. Teachers stressed the ability to materialize ideas in the world of paper, pencil and straightedge.

Expression of ideas was extended into the third dimension. Through the media of wood and metal, students created tangible representations of mental images. Skilled hands fashioned cabinets, bookends, and mailboxes from rough lumber and sheet metal, using power tools as well as hand tools. Simple projects served as the basis for more elaborate designs.

Students attempted to become masters of Industrial Arts by more proficient handling of drafting pens, chisels, and screw drivers.

Mid-week activity periods held surprises for sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Sandwiched between homeroom meetings on Monday and Pep Club assembly on Friday, assemblies offered entertainment and enlightenment.

The beginning of the year brought class officer campaign speeches. Students learned of the Shawnee Mission district through a speech made by Dr. Howard D. McEachen, superintendent. Many assemblies promoted music appreciation, as the Chamber Choir, Concert Choir, Instrumental Wind Ensemble, and Band performed. Films of the historic walk in space and Gemini rendezvous, cuttings from the school's three productions of the year, speeches by American Field Service ambassadors and hosts, and sample Student Congress meetings offered variation for assemblies.

Because they represented a welcomed change from the routine school week, assemblies increased students' interest in school.

Y-Teen Clubs Organize for Community Benefit Projects

Barbara Myers and Sue Stevens look on as Fuko Kobayashi tells Y-Teen members her suggestions for Oriental Christmas baskets.

For Y-Teens, plans for 1965 began with the termination of the 1964 school year. That spring cabinet officers were elected to serve the following year. A new system of organization (sophomore, junior, and senior combination clubs) led to better coordination of projects.

Weekly club periods brought speeches from Patricia Stevens models, buyers employed with local clothing stores, or non-professional panels of teenage boys. Each period ideas were advanced which later led to planning for Christmas caroling and YWCA retreats.

In celebration of World Fellowship Day the Y-Teens organized the Foreign Exchange Banquet. Y-Teen committees constructed a large globe representing exchange countries, made centerpieces of foreign flags, and baked each exchange student's favorite dessert. Through service Y-Teens aided school and community.

Warmth and Reality of

"I Remember Mama," the first play of the year, presented a touching drama of a Norwegian family and their relatives and friends in turn-of-the-century San Francisco.

As the oldest daughter Katrin recalled memories of her childhood, flashbacks revealed crises and conflicts in her family, where Mama was the pillar of strength and common sense. For Katrin's graduation, Uncle Elizabeth's accident, Dagmar's operation, and Uncle Chris' death, Mama knew what to do. In keeping family peace, her quiet good sense could calm the angry, soothe the hurt, or explain the enigmatic.

Under the direction of Mr. Rawley Farnsworth, "I Remember Mama" was not forgotten easily. The well-chosen cast, apropos scenery, and effective staging made an indelible impression on the audience.

Before leaving the house because of insufficient funds, Mr. Hyde pauses to bid a nostalgic farewell.

Dramatists Recall One

The February production of "Camelot" brought Roundtable romance to Shawnee Mission theatre-goers on February 10, 11, 12.

Preparation for the musical began as early as November, when choral auditions and try-outs were held. Stage crews began creating regal castle scenes in mid-January.

The story of "Camelot" goes back to the medieval days of King Arthur when Guenevere, the queen, falls in love with Lancelot, a knight of the Roundtable. Rating three standing ovations, lead acting by Rick Durrett as King Arthur, Carol Shive as Guenevere and Jim Hanna as Lancelot carried the operetta to the final scenes in which King Arthur realizes that although the kingdom is lost, the high ideals of Camelot will live forever.

Make-up and scenery artists, lighting and stage-crew technicians, actors, and actresses combined talents, ingenuity, and hard work to make the eighth annual operetta a success.

As the new queen, Guenevere, arrives in Camelot, dancers from King Arthur's court initiate gay celebrations.

Upon his arrival from France, Lancelot offers his services to King Arthur, his idol.

Shining Moment, "Camelot"

Proclaiming his infinite self-confidence, Lancelot announces his intentions in Camelot.

Bored with royal tedium, Queen Guenevere and King Arthur envy the joys of their subjects.

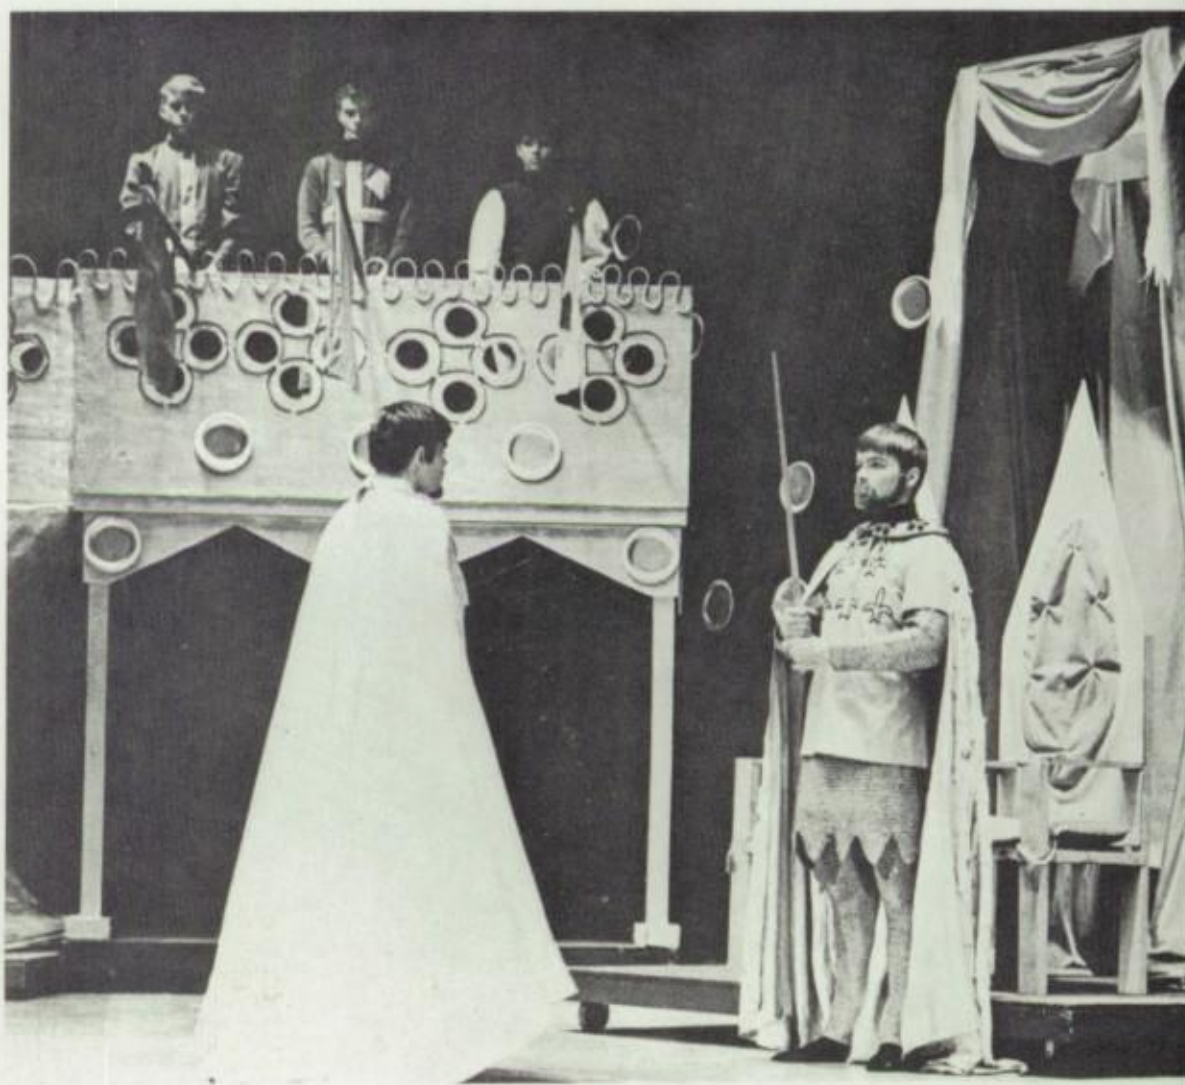

Queen Guenevere bids a sad farewell to King Arthur as she prepares to leave with Sir Lancelot.

Dismayed because of her love for Romeo, Juliet's suitor Paris turns from Lord and Lady Capulet before they tell him that he is marry their daughter.

After the assailant Tybalt has fled, Romeo and Benvolio aid their dying friend Mercutio, who has just been stabbed.

Tragedy prevailed over the Shawnee Mission East stage the nights of April 1 and 2 in the form of the dramatic "Romeo and Juliet."

Romeo, played by Tom Guernsey, and Juliet, portrayed by Sharon Perkins, find themselves helplessly in love; but, with the feud between their families, at an impasse. After many weeks of indecision and waiting, the two lovers decide their union is impossible, and Juliet becomes unwillingly engaged to Paris, the man her family chooses for her. The eve of her wedding, she takes a heavy drug, but is later revived and finds that Romeo has poisoned himself. She commits suicide and the drama ends in the tragic reunion of the lovers in death.

Production of William Shakespeare's immortal play was difficult for a high school troupe, but a combination of powerful acting, exquisite costumes, and effective scenery made the show a definite success.

Meaningful Exchange

Eight exchange students multiplied by families and friends equalled an approximation of those who "saw" another way of living.

Arriving on different August afternoons, students from three continents caught their first glimpse of Shawnee Mission, Kansas, the town they had heard so much about in letters. Pictures gave way to personalities, and soon strangers became brothers and sisters. A quartet of exchange students was joined by a fifth on October 6. Shawnee Mission East absorbed customs of Brazil, Japan, Denmark, the Netherlands, and Italy as students learned hello in each of those languages during carnival week.

Eating with chopsticks, learning to curtsy, and studying British-English were unique experiences for out-going ambassadors Kathy Cochrane, American Field Service; Sara Wolfe, Experiment in International Living; and Kristie Carlson, International Christian Youth Exchange; however, they had the common experience of sharing with another culture.

"It's a Small World," the theme of this year's Student Exchange Carnival, emphasized the closeness of people from all countries of the world. The goal of the carnival was to raise money to finance next year's exchange students.

During the week before the carnival, "shares" of next year's exchange students were sold in the form of pencils with "hello" written on them in different languages. Competition inspired each class to raise the largest amount of money per student. Carnival king and queen candidates were chosen from each class during the week. Seniors Rick Durrett and Kris Peterson were crowned King and Queen at the carnival.

Imagination showed up in the French "place de popcorn;" the dance in the "Bat Cave;" a movie, "It's a Small, Small, Small, Small World;" and the Pep Club's "Great Race."

Successful Dances Result from New Ideas, Thorough Planning, and Good Attendance

As attentive subjects form a path, royal court members Lynne Scheufele and Rick Durrett advance to take their places as attendants to the 1965 Homecoming Queen, Linda Tate.

Long-faced Dave Watson and Bob Butler await their dates, who have temporarily deserted them.

A combination of original decorative ideas and music furnished by popular combos set varied party atmospheres. Voodoo masks and jungle foliage set the mood for a Swinging Safari, the first school dance, with music by the Jesters. Sentimentality prevailed at Homecoming later in the fall, as alumni Little Jim and the Monkeymen returned. Blue and white streamers and large paper chess pieces carried through the Mr. Lucky theme. Wishes for a white holiday seemed granted as couples entered a Snowbound scene at the Christmas Formal. The Jesters again provided a musical background, this time surrounded by snowflakes instead of voodoo masks. A casual atmosphere was set for the Letterman's Dance with a planned program of dancing to the Human Beings. A free February mixer served as StuCo's Valentine present to the school. A queen reigned at the Hauberk dance, planned by the Hauberk staff. Bidding a sad good-bye to future graduates, the Senior Farewell completed the social season.

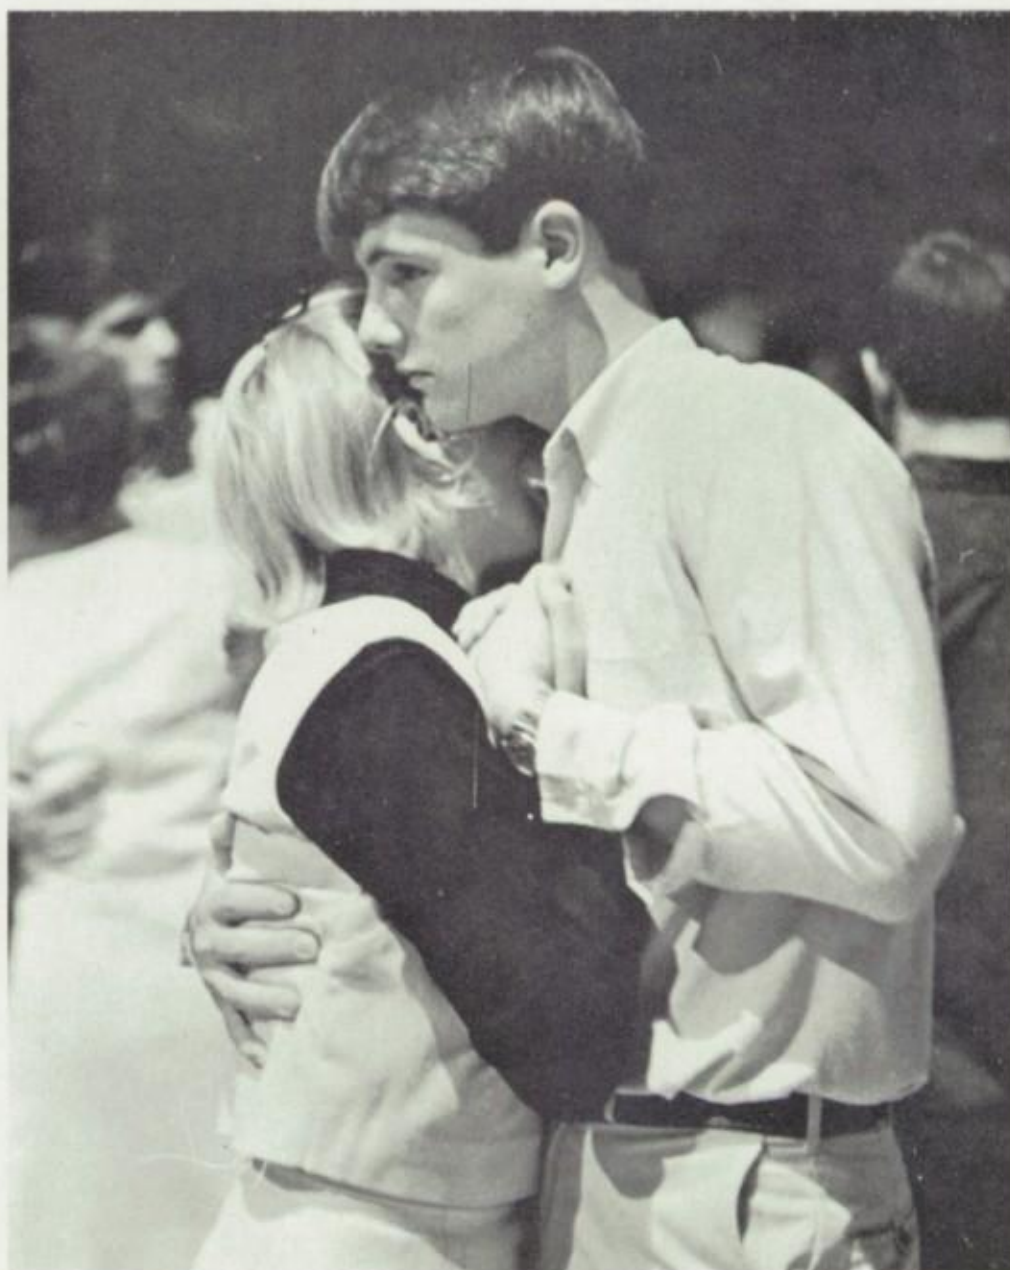

A varsity victory over Sumner and the driving beat of the Intruders combine to set a party atmosphere at the February Valentine Mixer.

Mr. Lloyd Schlapper reveals approval and delight at the half-time crowning of his daughter, Karen.

An "Unchained Melody" filled the air as the Homecoming Queen candidates approached the throne with crown and flowers for the queen. Following the presentation of the court, an expectant crowd shifted its attention to the nearing float, constructed by Rogene Pfeutze and her committee. The darkened stadium and spotlighted float created a dreamlike atmosphere for the 1965 Homecoming Queen, Linda Tate, and her attendants, Karen Norrell, Karen Schlapper, Jean Slentz, and Janice Latham. The theme of this year's Homecoming festivities, Mr. Lucky, was carried from the half-time crowning to the dance the following night, where Linda and her attendants reigned on a chess-board-like throne.

The football crowning ceremony started the Mr. Lucky spirit which lasted through the weekend and the Homecoming dance.

As the blue and gold of the combating Lancers and Trojans left the floor, they were replaced by the red, white, and orange tints of the heart-shaped Basketball Sweetheart throne.

Stepping to the strains of "Pass Me By," the Synchronettes appeared in traditional red and white uniforms to line the approach to the throne. Between the kneeling Synchronettes the royal court proceeded in red and white pairs, each girl with a pink rosebud corsage.

As the Blue Knights played "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," second attendant Rogene Pfuetze was escorted to her place on the throne, followed by first attendant Stormy Byorum and her escort. Appearing in a white-trimmed red dress and escorted by John Mueller, Janet Merrick, the 1966 Basketball Sweetheart, took her throne.

As a pleased crowd looked on, each sweetheart was honored with a white pearl crown a bouquet of red roses, and a congratulatory kiss.

The dance was highlighted with the presentation of the Hauberk queen and attendants. Plans followed by construction had begun months in advance of Prom weekend. Under the direction of co-chairmen Carol Irion and Sandi McMorris, basements and garages became workshops as part-time artists and carpenters built a waterwheel, murals, and paper mache trees.

The initial ideas became realistic only as romantic couples completed the atmosphere that April evening. Seniors smiled at first sight of junior endeavors. A sculptured cyprus tree, a garden fountain, and a majestic colonial mansion added to the elegance of the deep Southern mode. Long-flowing formals, unwrinkled tuxedos, and melodious strains from George Winn's band set in the midst of a plantation garden created an unforgettable remembrance.

Transforms Homeroom Motions into School Regulations

Summer conferences and inter-school correspondence formed a firm basis for a smooth-running Student Congress. After attending workshops at Camp Cheley, Colorado; and Fort Hays, Kansas; executives decided to reduce the Congress to one-half its traditional size.

Sixty-four junior and senior high schools were invited to send delegates to the December 11 StuCo workshop. In Wednesday Congress meetings, officers presided as committee chairmen reported results of meetings and representatives used delegated voting powers. Legislation including a senior parking lot was discussed and passed. Student Congress members voted to require future voting chairmen to be homeroom representatives. For the eighth consecutive year, the Student Congress held the United Fund Campaign. With class competition as an initiative, the drive was again successful.

The Student Congress formed an influential channel through which students voiced opinions and offered ideas for improving school life.

Headed by Chris Walker, the Publicity Committee advertised the work of other committees. School dances, the United Campaign drive, student directories, and the Exchange Carnival were promoted through colorful posters and morning announcements made by the committee.

The Social Committee, under Karen Erickson, coordinated the many social functions of the school. Much of their work involved setting themes, hiring bands, and making decorations for school dances and mixers.

The United Fund campaign and the Christmas Welfare drive were handled by the Special Projects Committee, led by Rick Durrett. In addition to organizing fund-raising crusades, the committee auditioned performers for the student talent assemblies.

Foreign student exchanges were managed by Sara Wolfe and the Exchange Committee. This committee also planned the Carnival in the spring and arranged exchanges with other high schools throughout the United States.

Scheduling of boys' intramural basketball games and the complex officiating assignments for each occupied Jim Anderson and the Intramural Committee. A more varied Saturday sports program was also investigated.

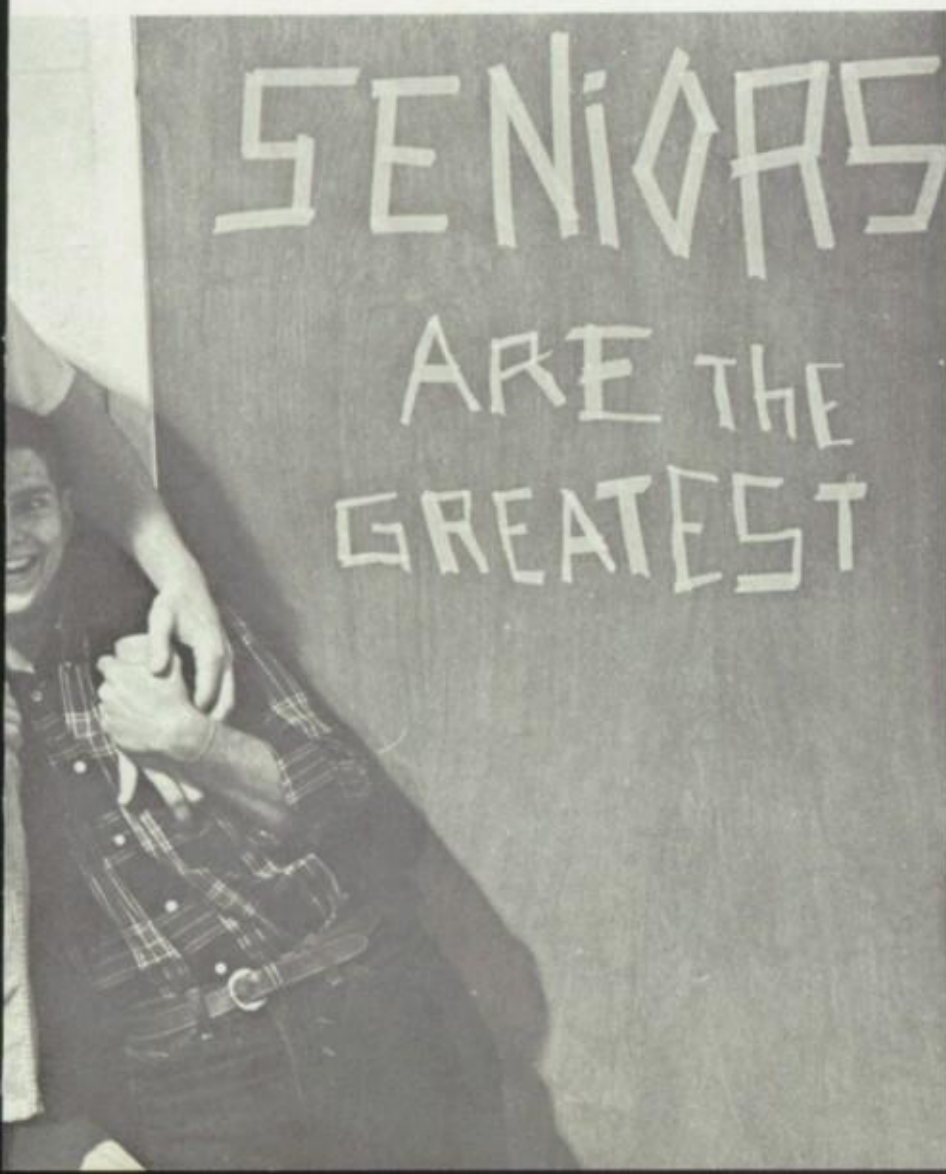

With Mark Shapiro as chairman, the Communications and Evaluations Committee discussed the merits of Student Congress activities and the problems of each, recommending changes and new ideas for future undertakings.

The Service Committee of the Student Congress, led by Cindy Fry, organized the Lost and Found, posted refreshment and ticket assignments for dances, helped with the erection of booths for the Student Exchange Carnival, and compiled information for the student directory.

Delegation Practices Governmental Politics

Preparing today's youth for tomorrow's responsibilities as informed citizens, American Legion chapters sponsored Boys' and Girls' State. Shawnee Mission East was represented in the summer programs by eleven participants, who increased their knowledge of state politics.

Enthusiastic conventioners were divided into Federalist and Nationalist parties as spirited nominating and campaigning for offices began. An active show of posters and speeches acquainted delegates with work involved in running for an elective office. Those elected to major posts visited Governor Avery in Topeka to observe an active functioning capital. Representatives and senators of both parties practiced political maneuvering in mock legislative sessions where laws were written and passed. Discussions ranged from education and welfare to building and beautifying highways.

Amateur politicians learned the organization of state government, returning better equipped to serve their state and community.

Looking forward to seeing old acquaintances, Bill Nye, Lu Lamb, and Rusty Leffel reminisce about summer fun with Topekans at Boys' and Girls' State.

Blue-Black Executive Committee and Active Members

Coordinating the masses into a roaring cheer for the blue and black, the executive committee organized each branch of Pep Club.

Monday afternoons the officers met to plan the Friday assembly and the theme for the week. Yell week, black dress mourning the defeated Indian, and clashing outfits significant of the Vikings' defeat brought enthusiastic response.

With distinctly original designs, representatives painted posters for upcoming games and decorated goal posts and bleachers. Extra hours were spent developing the homecoming theme, and constructing the queen's float. Basketball season meant planning for a dance and building a backdrop for the sweetheart ceremony. Hospitality, programs, and requisitions demanded attention each week of interscholastic sports.

Sending telegrams to debaters and athletic teams competing out of town, the executives promoted team support throughout the seasons.

Enthusiastic Cheerleaders and Tsae Recnal Lead Spirit

Waving pompoms and shouting through megaphones, cheerleaders amplified school spirit. Friday morning pep rallies and afternoon assemblies generated enthusiasm for weekend sports competition. At events ranging from fall football games, to winter swim meets, to spring tennis matches, cheerleaders led Pep Club members in team support.

Activities of varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders varied from practicing chants and motion after school to appealing to the Great Pumpkin for spirit and victory in Pep assemblies. Clinics in spring and fall gave prospective cheerleaders the opportunity to learn cheers from experienced pepsters.

Symbolizing Lancer spirit, a newly designed Tsae Recnal inspired team support. Taking the form of a medieval knight's helmet, Tsae aided cheerleaders in increasing school spirit.

Honor L and Heralders

Forming an integral part of Pep Club, Honor L and the Heralders encouraged a more enthusiastic and school-spirited student body.

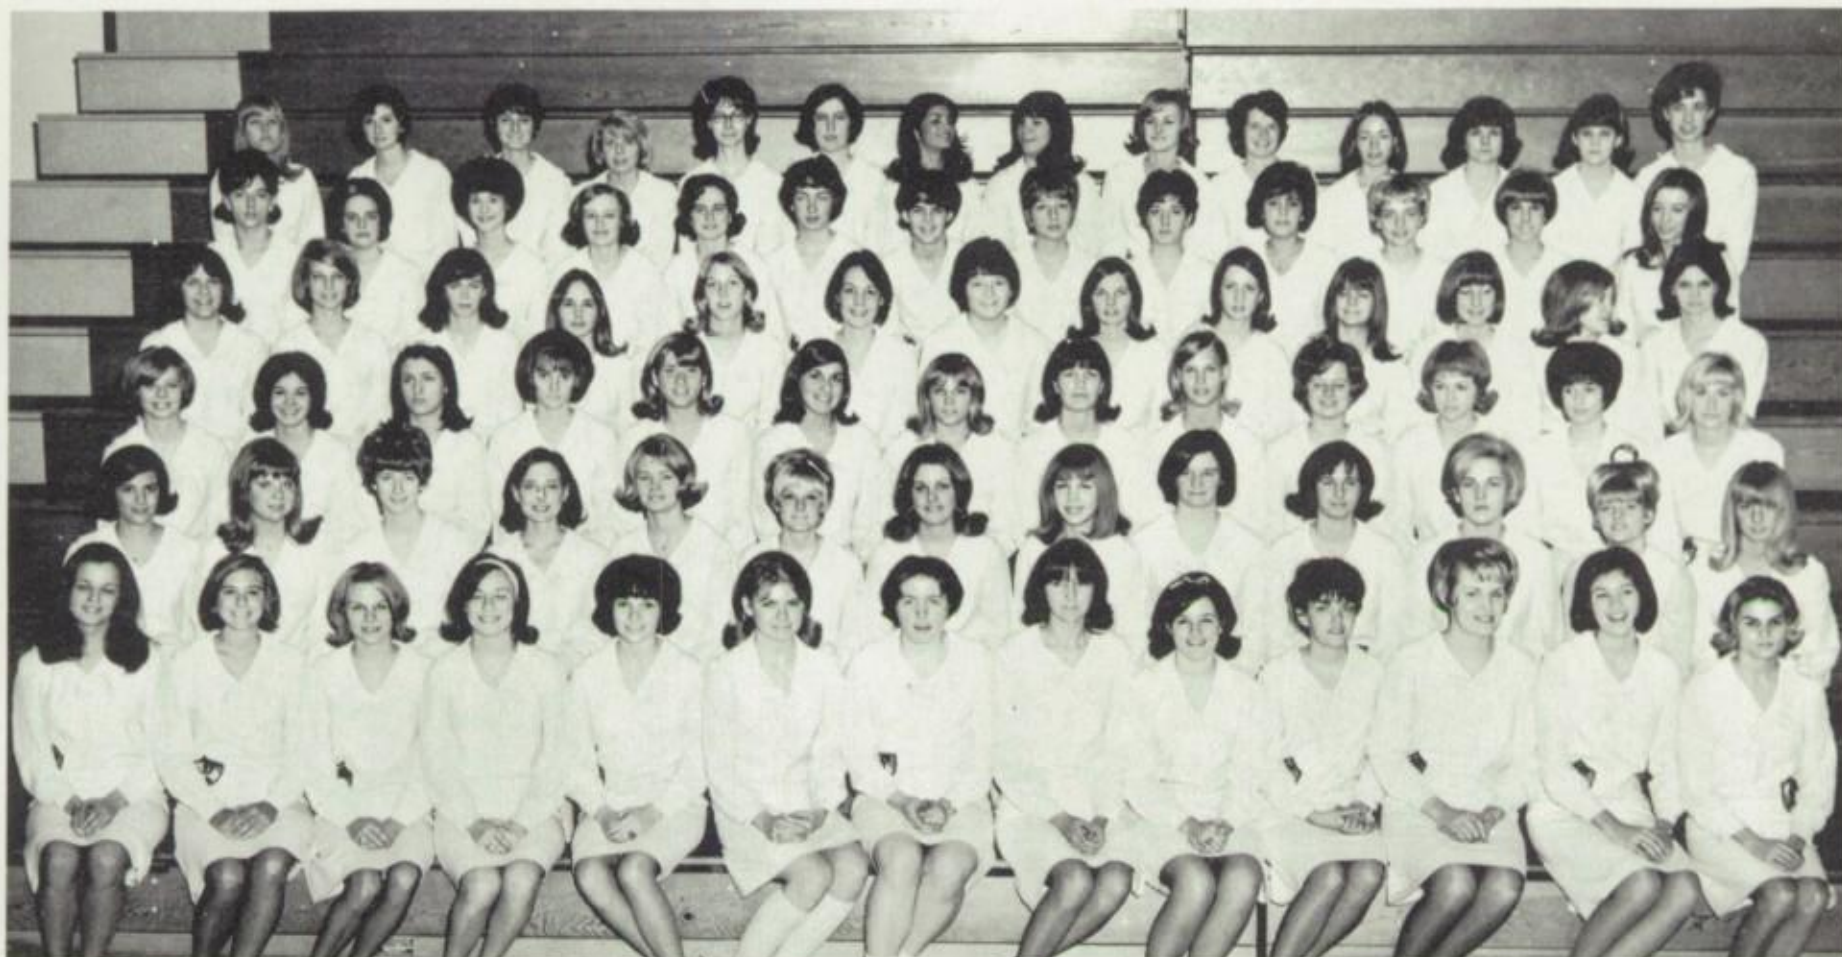

The main job of the 1965-1966 Heralders, four seniors and two juniors, was the opening of ceremonies with the traditional flourish of the trumpet. They participated in pep assemblies, basketball games, and Homecoming.

Honor L consisted of senior girls who were willing to work and promote school patriotism. To remain a member of Honor L, each girl was required to earn three points per six weeks by serving on the poster committee, checking coats at school dances, and working in the basketball concession stand. Group projects included supervising and carrying out the Football Dads' Night and the Basketball Parents' Night.

The blue and white Honor L and the Heralders carried the Lancer spirit from Friday Pep Club to weekend competitive matches.

Synchronettes use arms, waist movements, and a circle formation for a half time routine for the January 28th basketball game.

Uniformed girls, white boots and unison marching were marks of the Synchronettes, Shawnee Mission East's thirty-member drill team. Armed with pompoms, flags, high hats, batons, or South American musical instruments, the girls appeared at parades and games.

Under Mrs. Carolyn Howard's direction, the team spent seventh hour either in the gymnasium or on the football field practicing and preparing for performances. In addition to participating in half time ceremonies of school games, the Synchronettes marched at publicly and privately-sponsored parades. This fall the girls marched at Wichita, the farthest drill team trip ever recorded, where they took part in a state-wide clinic at Wichita State. Other highlights of the year were the American Royal and downtown Christmas parades and a nationally televised K.C. Chiefs' game.

The Synchronettes became a trademark of the school, representing one of the many facets of Shawnee Mission East.

Vocal and Instrumental Groups Produce Music Harmony

Members of the Concert Choir express varying emotions as they recall past public performances.

Resting between an opening performance and half-time show, members of the marching band rivet their attention on the opposition.

Vocal and instrumental exercise and class practice prepared musicians for concerts.

Daily hour vocal classes began with a voice warm-up session to improve oral tone. Practice was conducted individually and in sections which were divided according to voice classification. Groups reviewed different arrangements appropriate to that season and traditional favorites.

Instrumental classes rehearsed parts on individual instruments and blended results with other instruments in practicing pieces the remainder of the hour.

Both departments delighted Shawnee Mission East students and the public with numerous performances throughout the year. Donning black dresses and choir robes, the Girls' Choir and the Concert and Chamber Choirs combined with the orchestra to present the first concert of the year on October 30. Groups brought Christmas cheer with the December concert.

The music department provided the community and the school with enjoyable programs while exhibiting results of long hours of practice.

Musicians' Pace Grows as Performances Crescendo

Keeping pace with the rapid tempo of a full schedule, instrumental groups developed classical and popular arrangements for audiences at football games, parades, and concerts.

Despite the mist and mud of fifth hour, the marching band practiced outdoors to perfect half-time routines and special performances, as for the Chiefs' game. Instrumentalists accepted invitations to march in the American Royal parade and at Starlight Theater.

The orchestra and wind ensemble played the classical arrangements for assemblies, concerts, plays, and the operetta, Camelot. Practicing after school, the Blue Knights, official pep band, supplemented cheerleaders' chants as they carried the melody at Friday pep assemblies and at home basketball games.

Exhibiting the blue, black, and white colors and playing all types of melodies from the "1812 Overture" and "Symphony in B Flat" to the "Funny Girl Overture" and "Pass Me By," musicians expressed rhythmic versatility.

Under the direction of Mr. Jess Rose, vocal music groups brought forth harmonious sounds. From fall to spring, students throughout the school heard the practicing which prepared Boys' Glee, Girls' Glee, Girls' Choir, Concert Choir, and Chamber Choir for performances in and out of school. Chamber Choir, the most selective of the groups, was composed of fifty-three juniors and seniors. Singers from Chamber Choir and Concert Choir made up the Triple Trio and several Madrigal groups.

Vocal music students performed in assemblies, evening concerts, the Christmas program, and at luncheons and parties. The beginning of April brought vocalists to State Music Festival. Students compared talent and ability individually and ensembles, competing with the larger Kansas schools and bringing honors back to themselves and to Shawnee Mission East.

Maintaining a busy schedule, vocal music groups enriched the school both through the individual singer's development and through area recognition of talent.

Acting and Crew Work

Thespian Troop 1806 of Shawnee Mission East, sponsored by Mr. Rawley Farnsworth, encouraged and developed dramatic art.

Membership in Thespians was on a point basis. After a student had earned ten points by acting or backstage crew work, he was invited to join the Thespian group. Dramatists could earn one point by working ten hours backstage or having one-hundred lines script to read in a school production.

Actors and actresses demonstrated talents and creativeness to the student body in the annual Thespian assembly. In February Thespians presented "An Overpraised Season." This year's officers were Dave Watson, president; Faye Pincus, vice-president; Anna Clair, secretary; and Kim Clark, treasurer.

The May 14 banquet closed the Thespian acting season with honors for dramatists and initiation for eligible amateurs.

Labor Resolution Argued

Competing with other Kansans, debators used evidence to argue the topic, Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Adopt a Program of Compulsory Arbitration of Labor-Management Disputes in Basic Industries.

Gathering statistics and opinions of economists, novice and advanced debators built their cases. Affirmative speakers advocated elimination of strikes, while negative arguments defended collective bargaining and the rising economy. Class and after-school rounds prepared students for more difficult tournaments.

Student participation in speech and debate earned points for National Forensic League membership. By accumulating specified numbers of points, orators attained degrees of Merit, Honor, Excellence, and Distinction. Led by President Mark Shapiro, N.F.L. members helped conduct the junior division of Shawnee Mission's annual tournament. Debate courses and N.F.L. enabled students with oratorical ability to participate in tournaments.

Produce Written Mementos

A new sponsor, Mr. Phil Pruitt, combined with two creative staffs, brought a new look to the 1965-1966 Harbinger. Each semester's staff was picked on the basis of Journalism I grades and desire to work on the newspaper. The staff varied formats with a new front-page lay-out for each week. Under the leadership of editors-in-chief Dave Burket and Sandie Lindell, staffs merged ideas for enjoyable reading. Editors opinionized on such topics as hypocrisy, problems of the modern teenager, tradition, conformity, and school activities. New feature articles such as "More Moors," the "Alumni Column," "Speaking of Sports," and "At the Movies" formed the foundation for varying weekly papers. Most schools in the Kansas City area received copies of the Harbinger as did all Shawnee Mission East students. The publication traveled to college campuses all over the country with the great increase in alumni subscriptions.

The Harbinger gave students an accurate account of recent happenings as well as a humor-out look at the light side of school life.

Press the Completion of HauberK '66

Through copy and candids, the 1966 HauberK staff worked to compile the events of an entire year into bound remembrances. Closely related staffs specializing in captions and copy, artwork, business, photography, and sports busy worked to meet the four deadlines.

New ideas developed in the 1966 book included colored division pages artistically designed and teachers caught in typical candid expressions. The cover and division pages, which carried out the theme, were kept a senior staff secret until distribution on Senior Day.

In competition with Shawnee Mission West, the staff devoted extra time to promoting yearbook sales under a "candid camera" theme. With the book completed, efforts were turned to planning the annual HauberK dance, dance and the crowning of a queen chosen by popular vote.

Supervised by Mr. Donald Wilson and directed by editor Sara Wyant, thirty students summed up 1965-1966 in 320 meaningful pages.

Quill and Scroll Commends Journalistic Contributions

Kindling the torch of journalistic achievement, seniors are initiated into the national society Quill and Scroll.

National recognition of journalistic service commended senior achievement at Shawnee Mission East. All seniors contributing measurably to the newspaper and annual were recognized by receiving membership in the journalism society, Quill and Scroll.

Eligibility for membership required a position on Hauberk or Harbinger staffs, recommendation by a staff advisor, and academic standing in the upper one-third of the senior class. Those fulfilling the requirements were honored in March at the annual Quill and Scroll banquet held at Shawnee Mission West. Following dinner and a guest speaker on modern journalism, new members were initiated in a candle-lighting ceremony. Each candle represented a goal of Quill and Scroll: Loyalty, Truth, Learning, Leadership, Initiative, Integrity, Judgement, and Friendship.

48 Scholars Merit Kansas and National Commendation

Surpassing all other Kansas high schools, Shawnee Mission East this year had 24 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test Finalists and 24 Commended Scholars.

After taking the five part examination in the spring of 1965, and receiving their scores before school let out, the students waited until fall to be informed of their Semi-Finalist status. The next procedure was filling out the six-page application in black ink. Semi-Finalists became Finalists after earning satisfactory scores on College Boards in December. Scholarship winners were informed in February, but were not announced until May. The choice of the recipients was based upon merit; the amount of the stipend upon financial need.

Besides possible National Merit scholarships, Finalists and Letter of Commendation winners received notice by schools all over the country and offers of other scholarships.

In honor of outstanding qualities of leadership, scholarship, character, and service, National Honor Society students recognized 125 new members in the March 24 all-school assembly. A round of congratulatory applause followed the announcement of each name.

Months before the announcement, potential candidates were screened. Guided by sponsors Elizabeth Boys, Jane Lindell, Duane Houston, and Bob Young, teachers chose members.

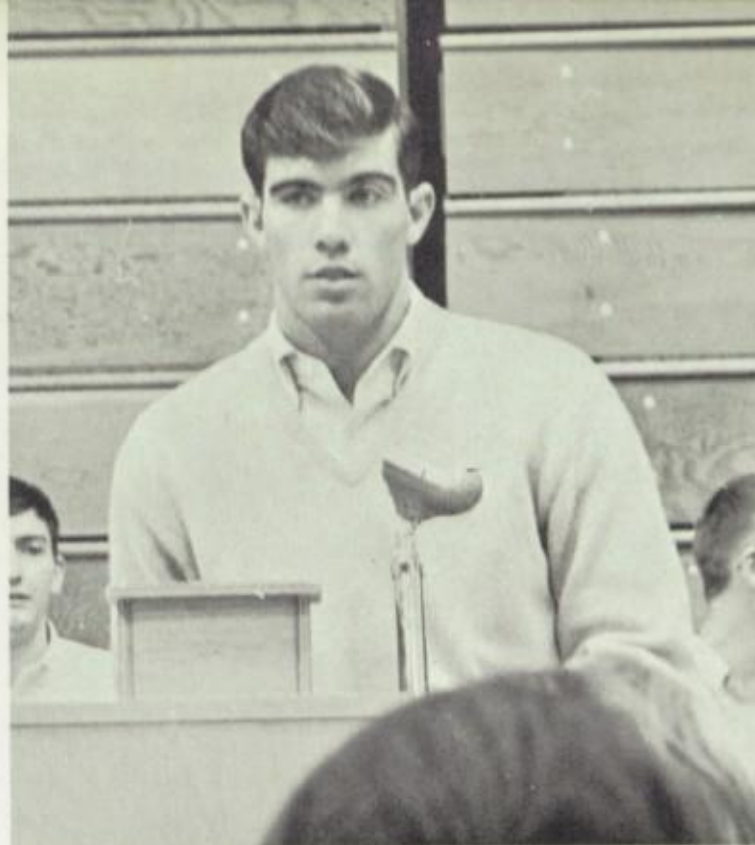

Last fall the society elected officers Steve Kunz, President; Bill Nye, Vice-President; Mary Hiersteiner, Secretary; and Lyn DuBois, Treasurer to organize the carnival booth, the annual picnic, and the initiation.

The new members were initiated at a traditional candle-light ceremony. Before parents and friends, each one took the pledge to maintain high standards of achievement.

Senior fullback Jim Brennan eludes a sprawled NKC Hornet defender with a quick sidestep and good balance.

The '65 edition of the SM East football team earned the third place spot in the final Sunflower league standings with a very respectable 6-2-1 record. Not only did the Lancers equal the previous season high of six wins, but 9th place city and 7th place state ratings were given to the squad at the schedule's end.

These lofty ratings reflected the power of an offense which averaged over 18 points per game. The offense relied on passes by Chris Montgomery and runs by Jim Brennan and John Mueller. Montgomery gave East a fine kicking game by booting 17 PAT's and 1 field goal. In addition was a stingy defense that relinquished only 9 points a game. The defense featured Jim Nixon, Lineman of the Year, and Rick Durrett.

Victory over Lawrence High in the fourth game marked the high point of the season. Because of numerous injuries and ineligibilities, this peak form was never again attained. The 16 junior lettermen bore the brunt of the absences, and they can be expected to have an outstanding season next year.

The 1965 football team opened its gridiron season with a 23-0 shutout victory over the North Kansas City Hornets. East scored on plunges by B.G. Miller and Jim Brennan and a 32-yard run by John Mueller. Junior kicker Chris Montgomery climaxed two successful PAT's with a 23-yard field goal late in the third quarter. The Lancer defensive unit permitted the Hornets to penetrate only to the 23 yard line.

A powerful ground attack and a determined defense combined to deal the favored Topeka Trojans a 26-0 setback. John Mueller tallied for a touchdown in the second quarter on a 12-yard sweep followed by another on a 60-yard pass from quarterback Bill Neal. Topeka threatened once in the third quarter. Jim Brennan and Bill Neal carried the ball for two more touchdowns to complete the crushing victory.

The Washington Wildcats took full advantage of every Lancer mistake to hand the Blue and Black their first loss, capitalizing on two fumbles to score. East's only touchdown came on a run by Jim Brennan in the second quarter.

The Lancer offensive line gives junior quarterback Chris Montgomery adequate protection to spot his receivers and complete the pass for first-down yardage.

Taking the handoff from Chris Montgomery, fullback B.G. Miller crashes off-tackle behind the blocking of linemen Mike Banks, Charlie Brown, and Jon Martin.

Lawrence Loses 13-0 to East to End Victory Streak at 35

The fourth game of the season brought the first victory over Lawrence in East grid history. A hard-hitting defense led by Jim Nixon and Don Brennan forced three Lion fumbles and intercepted two aerials. A well-oiled ground attack provided the scoring thrusts, with Chris Montgomery and Jim Brennan going over for TD's on plunges. Final tally-SME 13, Lawrence 0.

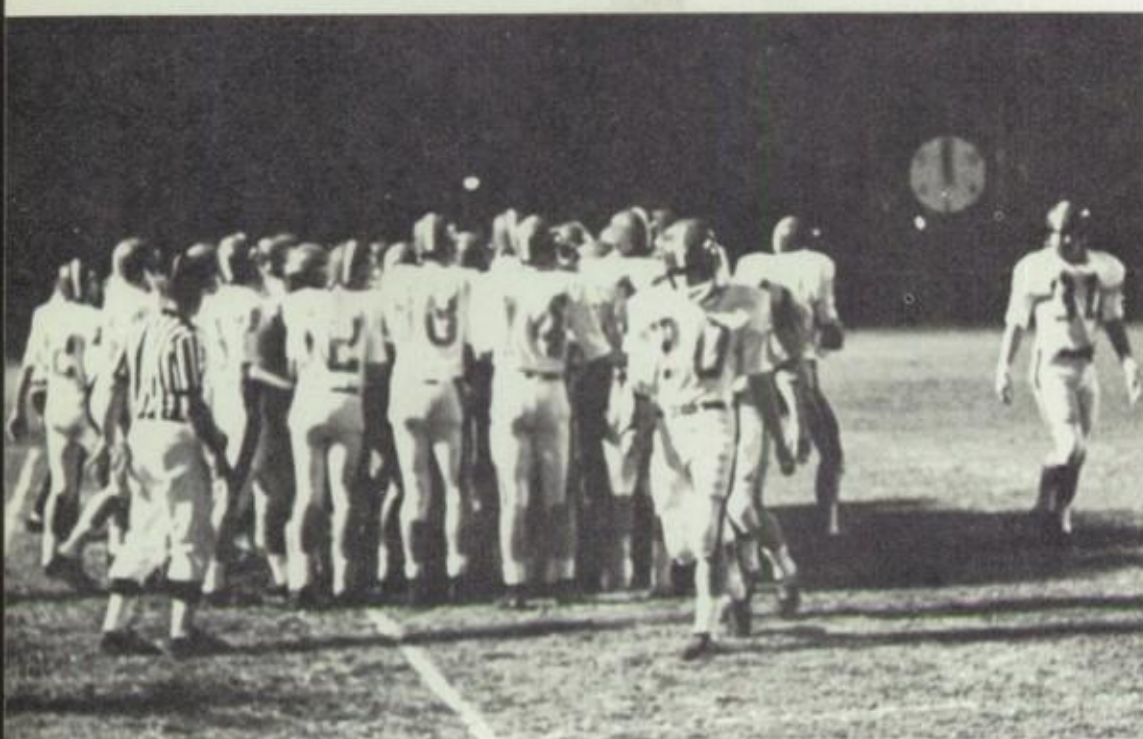

Facing the No. 1 team in the state for the second consecutive week, the Lancers this time dropped a 16-14 decision to the SM North Indians. Trailing 10-0 at the half, the Blue and Black forged ahead 14-10 on a 2-yard plunge by Jim Brennan that capped a 46-yard drive from a fumble recovery. Earlier scoring came on a 48-yard double reverse pass play from Montgomery to Mueller. However, North came back to score with a minute remaining to ice the victory.

East went back to its winning ways with a 32-14 rout over Wyandotte. Jim Steele scored twice, while Chris Montgomery, B.G. Miller, and John Mueller scored once. Senior defensive end Jim Nixon headed the defense by blocking a punt and intercepting a pass.

Senior halfback Steve Kunz lunges for extra yardage despite the futile efforts made by a North Kansas City tackler.

Three phases of game strategy—sideline conferences with Coach Unruh, the pre-game instructions to the team, and the huddle to plot the action for the next play—are essential to the planning of a victory.

Vikings Fall to Blue and

The season's seventh game for the Lancers turned out to be an offensive battle against Rockhurst. The potent East offense, led by an overpowering ground game, was able to penetrate the Hawklet defense for 5 touchdowns. Weakened by loss of key players, the usually strong Lancer defense allowed Rockhurst 27 points, however this was not enough as East won 35-27. Offensive stars for East were Chris Montgomery, John Mueller, and Jim Brennan.

In the next game an inspired SM West team slowed down the high gear Lancer offense, but the East defense provided the winning margin on a 1st quarter safety by Jim Nixon and Kip Gatchell. Chris Montgomery capped East's scoring on a touchdown and conversion. A late West rally fell short, and East finally won 9-8.

The final game of the season ended on a disappointing note since East could do no better than tie the last place Topeka West Chargers. The only East score came on a short plunge by B.G. Miller. This proved to be the final score for both teams, and the game ended a 7-7 tie.

Black for Second Successive Year in Traditional Rivalry

After being injured for the first half of the season, Jim Steele returned to be a valuable asset to the offense, as exemplified by this fine fake.

A Lancer end grabs an aerial near the sideline before heading upfield for a large gain.

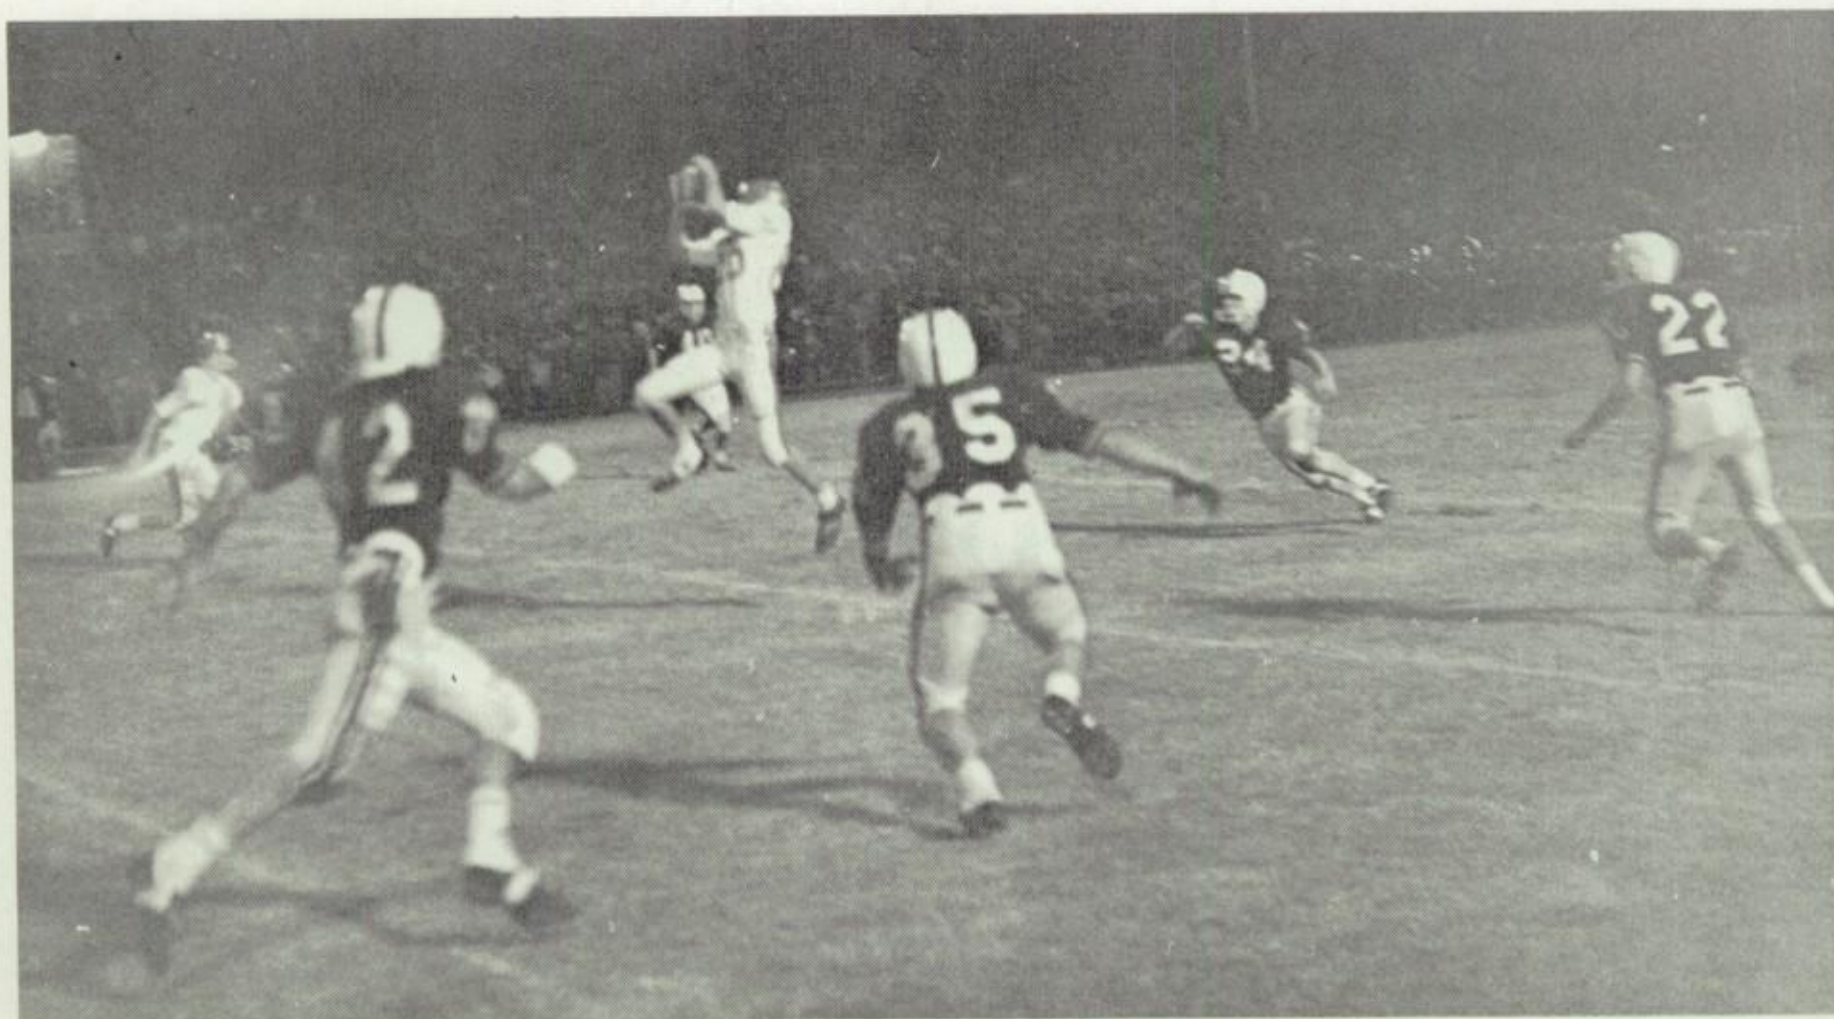

Place kicker Chris Montgomery boots another extra point with the aid of holder Bill Neal and blocker Jim Brennan.

Sophs and JV Capture Top Spots in Sunflower Standings

Senior end John Strahl leaps high amidst heavy traffic to latch onto a Chris Montgomery pass during a second-half touchdown drive against the SM North Indians.

Again this year the Junior Varsity and the Sophomores played some of the best football at East this year. A league championship for one of the Sophomore teams and the third Sunflower crown in a row for the JV evidences the excellent participation of the non-varsity athletes.

The Junior Varsity, coached by Jack Hammig, fashioned a highly respectable 6-1 record. Victories included in the season mark were a 38-6 trouncing of SM West and a 12-7 win over SM North. The only loss was to Lawrence. The JV was the highest scoring Lancer team this year as it averaged over 23 points a game, while the defense permitted only 7 per game. Junior varsity standouts who also helped the varsity were Don Payne, Harvey Grossman, Phil Murray, Dick Bradley, and Lloyd Niven.

The Sophomore squads rolled up a combined record of 12-3-1, including a 7-1 record by the league championship group. The Sophs also defeated Lawrence High during the schedule this year. The Blue-White game, the annual clash which pits the sophomore squads against each other, ended in a 0-0 tie.

The defensive unit expresses its approval while leaving the field following East's recovery of a Topeka fumble near mid-field.

Lancer Two-Milers Pace to Fourth Place in Regional

Junior Bruce Nelson toes the chalk line marking the course as he commences the second and last lap of the two-mile race.

Experience presented no problem to cross-country coach Cal Cormack as five lettermen returned for another season of distance running. Underclassmen, led by team captain John Wilson, provided the greater portion of legwork on the seven-man varsity squad in meets.

On their home course the team placed behind Wyandotte in their first dual encounter. Long workouts and competitive time trials prepared the Lancer men for their next two victorious meetings with Salina and Sumner. Journeying to Wichita the thinclads ranked fifth in a large field at the Wichita Invitational.

The two-milers remained at home for the following three contests. From a group of twenty-two teams the Lancer harriers paced to a fourth place finish at the Shawnee Mission Invitational. At the triangular meet held in conjunction with Shawnee Mission West and North and at the Sunflower league meet the distance men captured third place. Jim Forbes competed in the State meet, but East's cross-country team didn't qualify for state qualification.

East Cagers Finish Up at 11-11 Despite Tough Schedule

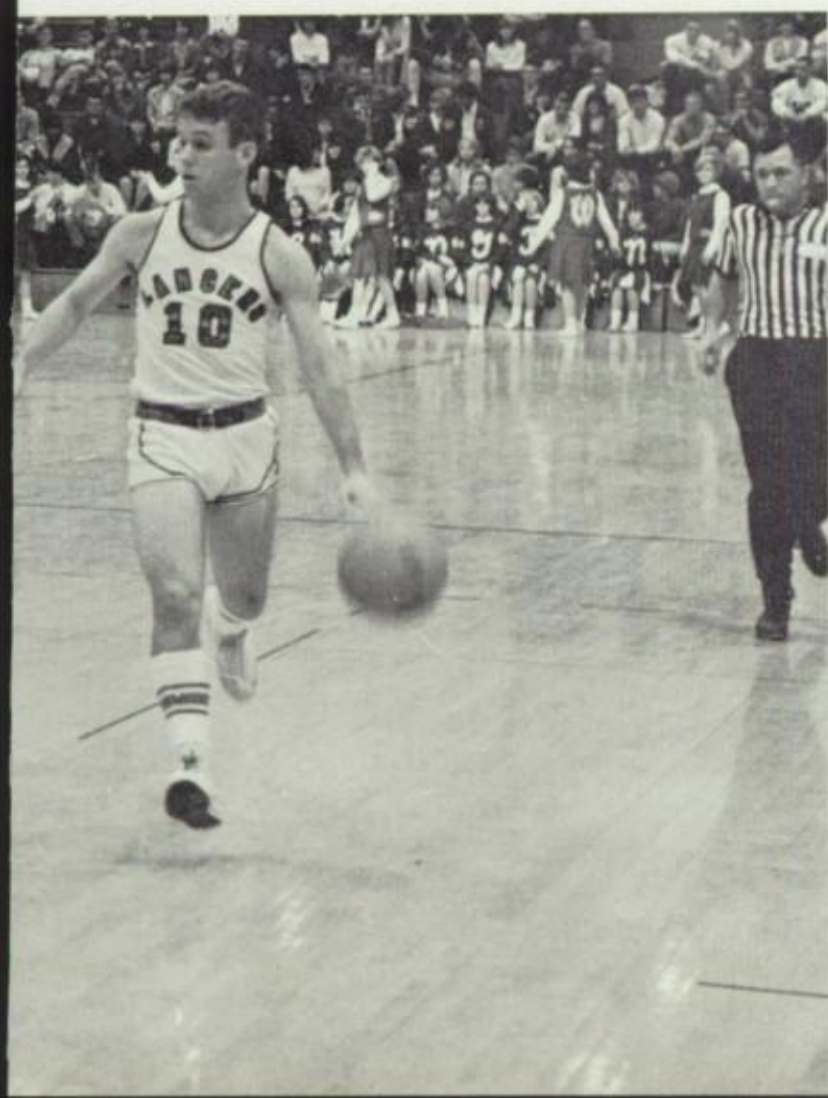

With a squad composed chiefly of returning lettermen, coach Glenn Saunders' varsity squad completed the 1965-66 season with an 11-11 record. The lettermen, seniors Bill Neal, Dean Stahlhut, and Marty Nolterieke, and junior Skip Quimby, sparked the Lancers, along with junior Steve Rhoades and sophomore Bob Albo. Rhoades, Stahlhut, and Nolterieke headed the scoring, while Stahlhut and Rhoades were the top rebounders. Dean, a big 6'5" postman, broke all of the school rebounding records.

The season mark included a third-place at the Lee's Summit Christmas Tournament, third place at the Regional Tournament, and a 5-7 Sunflower league record, good for fifth place. Highlights of the year were two high-scoring and well-played victories over Topeka Central, a triumph over a top-ranked Missouri school, Raytown, and another win over the highly-regarded Sumner Spartans. Also of importance was the beating of SM West 2-out-of-3 games.

East cagers opened the season by traveling to Topeka and outshooting their opponents in a 68-58 contest. Dean Stahlhut and Skip Quimby tallied for 19 and 18 points respectively.

From under the basket 6'5" senior postman Dean Stahlhut utilizes his height to put in another bucket to help a 12-point average.

Senior Jim Halsted drives to the corner, as Marty Nolterieke, Steve Rhoades, and Bill Neal hustle downcourt to set up a play.

Lancers Capture Third Place Trophy at Christmas Tourney

As evidenced by the grimace on his face, determination helps leading Lancer scorer Steve Rhoades haul another one off the backboards.

The players relax while line up on the free-throw lane as Bill Neal shoots the first of two penalty throws.

Overcoming a 10-point deficit the Lancers showed their strength at Lawrence but failed to connect with the final basket leaving the score at the last buzzer 56-57.

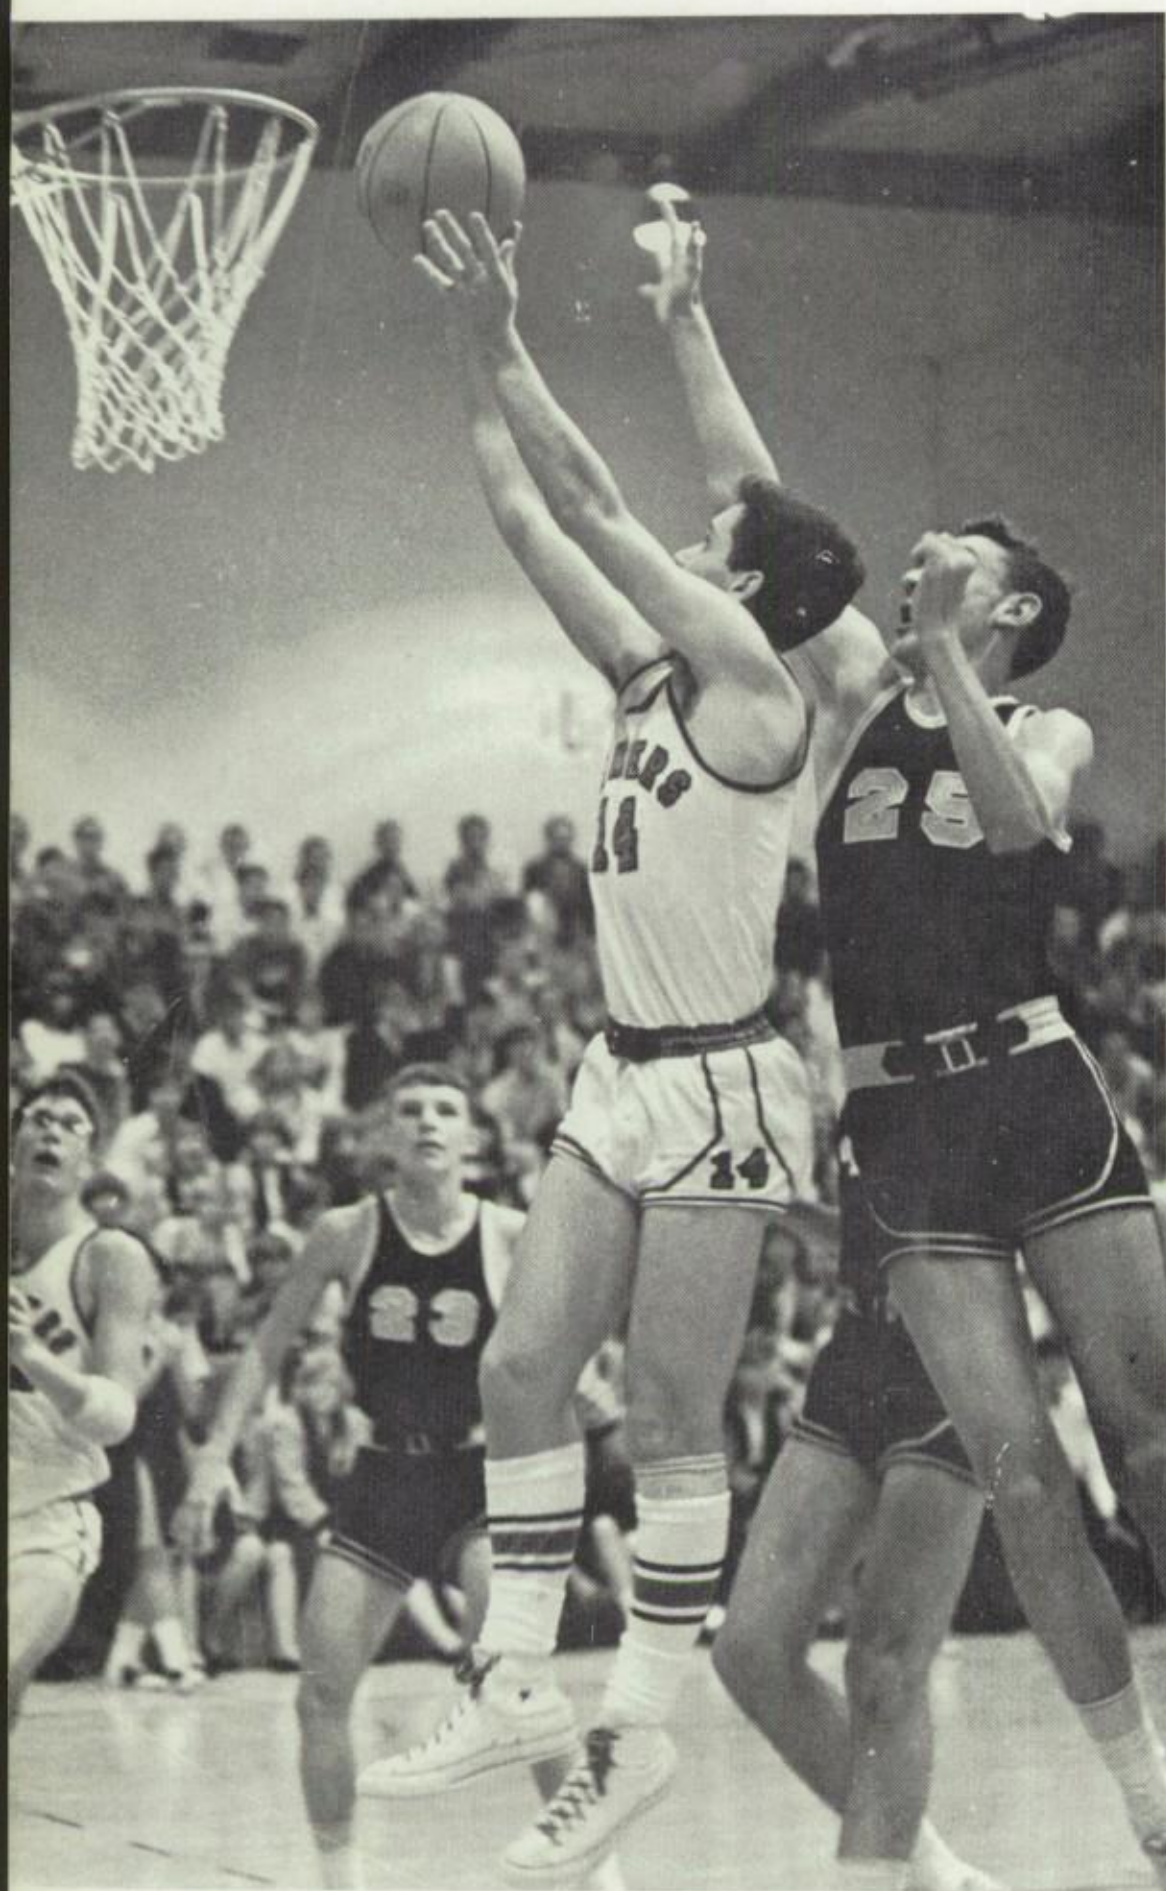

The basketball team provided home fans with two thrillers in defeating Washington and Raytown in close competition. The Wildcats were defeated in the final minutes as the Blue and Black scored two buckets to win 51-47. The following night Raytown was edged from victory as Steve Rhoades blocked a last minute shot to protect a 45-44 score. The Lancers beat Shawnee Mission West 64-60 in the following game.

A third place finish at the Lee's Summit Tournament highlighted the Christmas vacation. East defeated Ruskin 46-42, but lost in a three overtime dual to Truman 59-58. In the final contest Bishop Miege fell 52-50.

Standing 3-0 in league matches, the cagers traveled to Topeka West to face another unbeaten league opponent. The tall Chargers proved to be too much for the Lancers as a late charge led by Steve Rhoades and Marty Nolterieke found East fall short by a 51-48 count.

Four-Game Losing Streak Drops Mid-Season Mark to 6-6

Seeing a loophole in the Shawnee-Mission West defense, Marty Nolterieke positions himself for an easy two points.

Ken Robertson and Bill Woodward scramble for a loose ball in attempting to tie up a Topeka West Charger.

Facing another unbeaten foe, the roundballers again lost a crucial game. This loss came at the hands of Wyandotte, 73-57. Returning to action after semester break, the Lancers once again faced a highly regarded opponent. The game was played on Ward's home court and was extremely close and hard fought; however, East lost 62-52. Leading scorer in the game was Dean Stahlhut with 21. In the next game East led at half but finally succumbed to Shawnee Mission North, 73-58. The Lancers were paced by Skip Quimby and Marty Nolterieke with 15 and 14 points respectively.

After four straight losses, the cagers next won a convincing victory over Topeka by the score of 75-61. Steve Rhoades led the offensive-minded Lancers with 19 points. Against Shawnee Mission West, the Blue and Black lost a last-minute decision, 55-54. A shot by East bounded from the rim with six seconds left to secure the Vikings' victory. The following week Washington fell to East in a league tilt. Using a balanced scoring attack the Lancers won 63-49, with Rhoades and Nolterieke hitting 15 each.

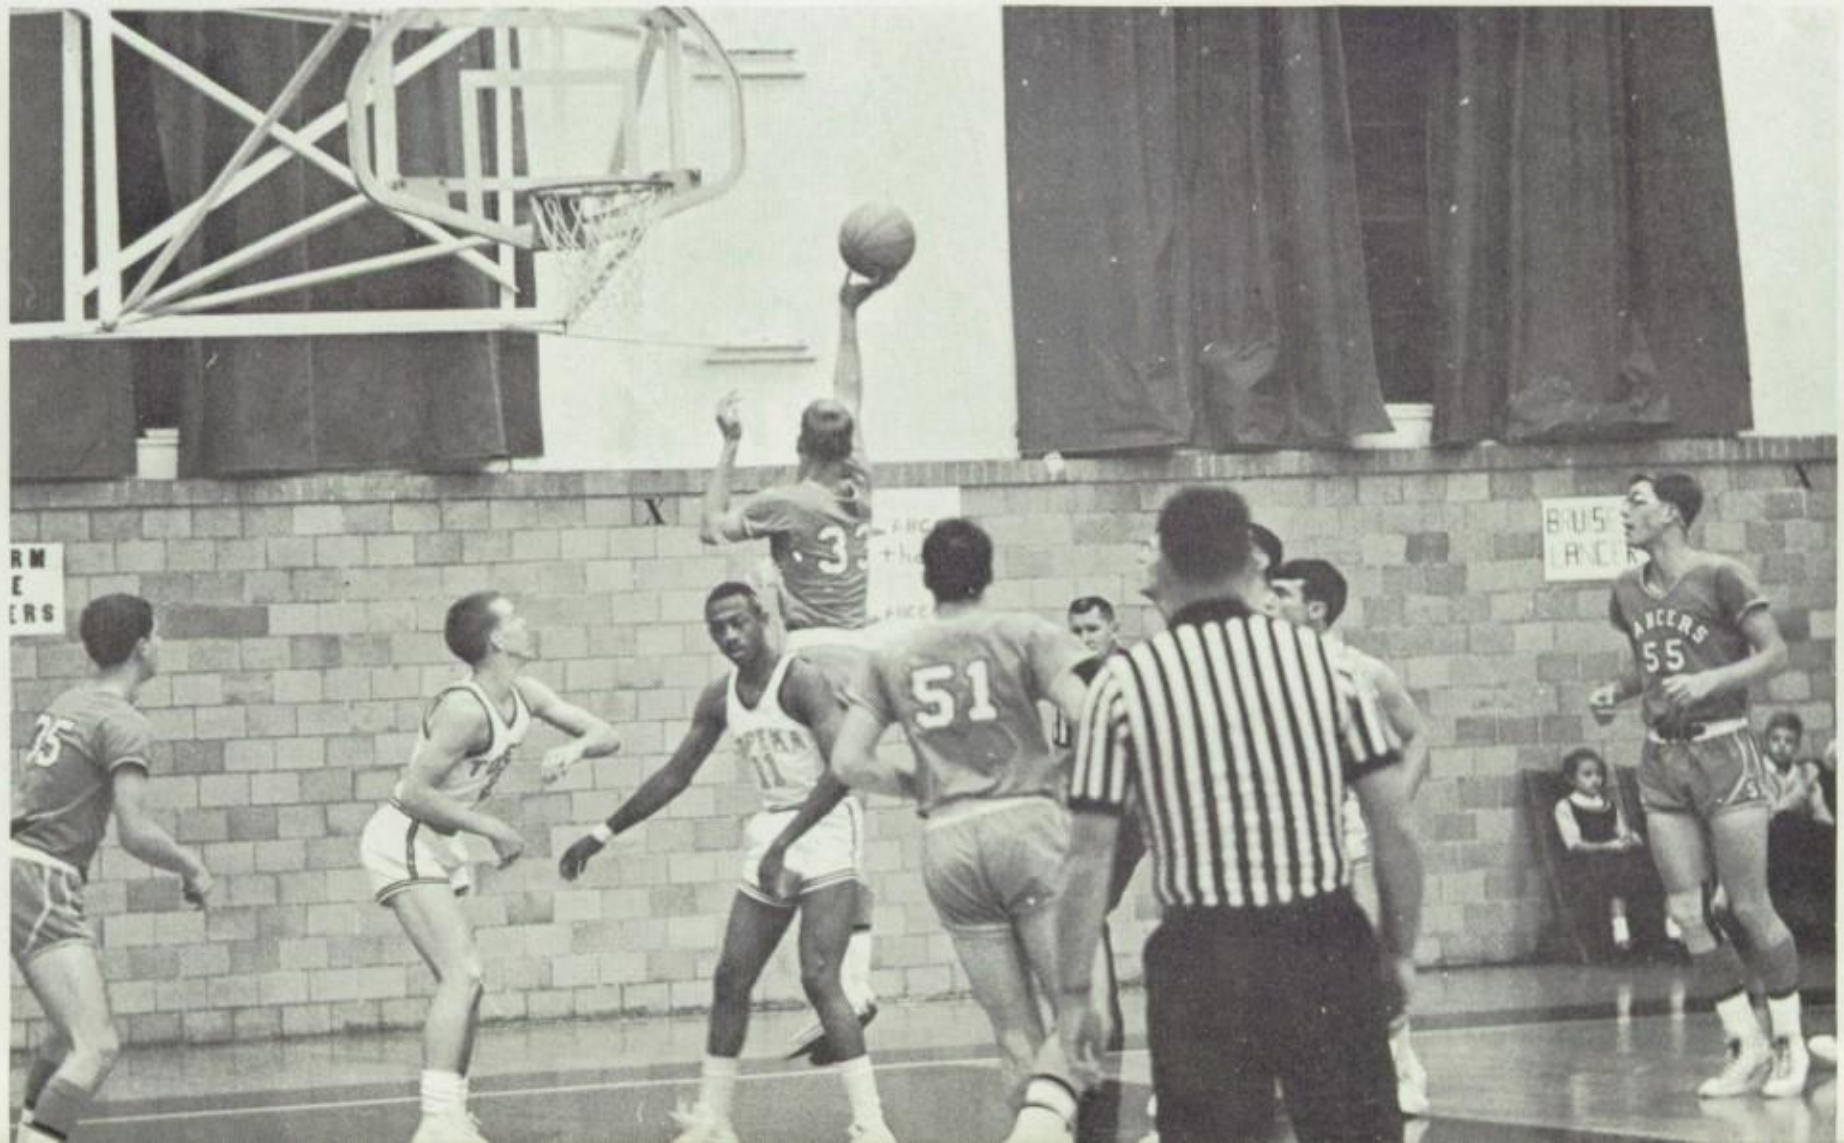

Senior forward Bill Neal concentrates on pumping up a jump shot over the outstretched arm of the man who is guarding him.

Dean Stahlhut arches a medium-range jump shot as Steve Rhoades and Bob Albo position for the carom.

Skip Quimby dribbles through the Topeka Central defense to fire a driving lay-up over his man.

Blue and Black Close With 66-58

Senior Pat O'Neal puts up a turn-around shot off the baseline against SM North.

Ken Robertson and Jim Brennan position themselves around the center circle while preparing to receive a fourth-quarter tip from Steve Rhoades.

Bob Albo battles under the boards for another rebound against a Sumner foe.

Conquering of SM Rival

The next game saw the Lancers invade the Wyandotte gymnasium. Despite Steve Rhoades' 19 points, and Dean Stahlhut and Marty Nolterieke with 15 tallies apiece, the Bulldogs eked out a 64-59 verdict. Down by as many as 13 during the second quarter, East fought back to tie the score, but couldn't hold the pace.

Returning to the home hardwoods, the Blue and Black edged Sumner, 52-50, on a last-second jumper by Bob Albo. Albo, only a sophomore, played his best game, leading the Lancers with 14 points and numerous rebounds.

East closed out the regular season with two league losses—one to Topeka West, 46-40, and one to SM North, 73-63. Against the Chargers, cold shooting and poor defense spelled defeat, while North used torrid team gunning to offset Marty Nolterieke's outside shooting.

Action at the regionals saw the Lancers take third place. In the first round after trailing most of the game, the cagers rallied to edge Argentine, 65-63. In the second round East lost to North, 71-51. The third place trophy was won by whipping West the next night, 66-58.

Bob Albo will get a free-throw as one of the officials spots an infraction committed by an overly-eager Sumner Spartan.

The blur of Dean Stahlhut's arm and the basketball demonstrate the force with which he powers this dunk shot through the cords.

J.V. Roundballers Surge to First Place Finish in Loop

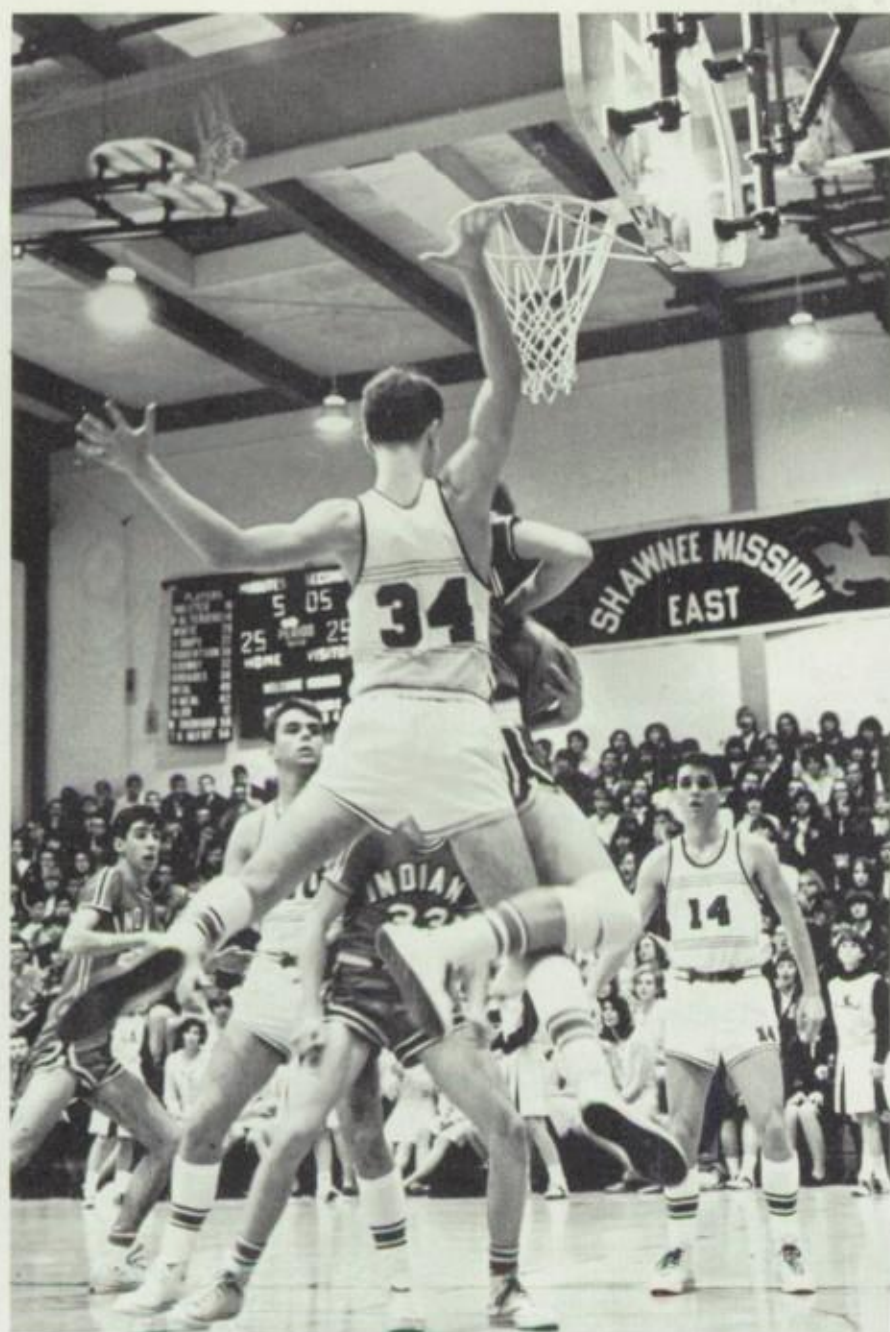

Sophomore coaches Leroy Simpson (l.) and Tom Hewitt (r.) formulate new plays and strategy to employ in future games.

The Junior Varsity, coached by Mr. Derald Boline, was the leader among SM East basketball teams with an 11-5 overall record. Included was a 10-2 Sunflower league total, the only setbacks coming to SM North and Wyandotte. This mark was good enough to earn the loop championship. Outstanding for the year were Jim Ballinger, the leading scorer, Bruce White, and two sophs, Barry Edwards and Bob Albo.

The two sophomore squads scrambled to a combined 11-12 won-lost total. The varsity squad of Coach Tom Hewitt played to a very respectable 8-6 record, despite four two-point losses. The highlight of the season came when the sophs captured the Lawrence tournament by defeating Lawrence and SM West. Top performers for the year were John Smith, Terry Murlowski, Jim McMurtry, and Bill Crutchfield. Coach Leroy Simpson's reserves could muster only a 3-6 mark. His top boys were Jim Tuley, Rick O'Flynn, and Corky Hardin.

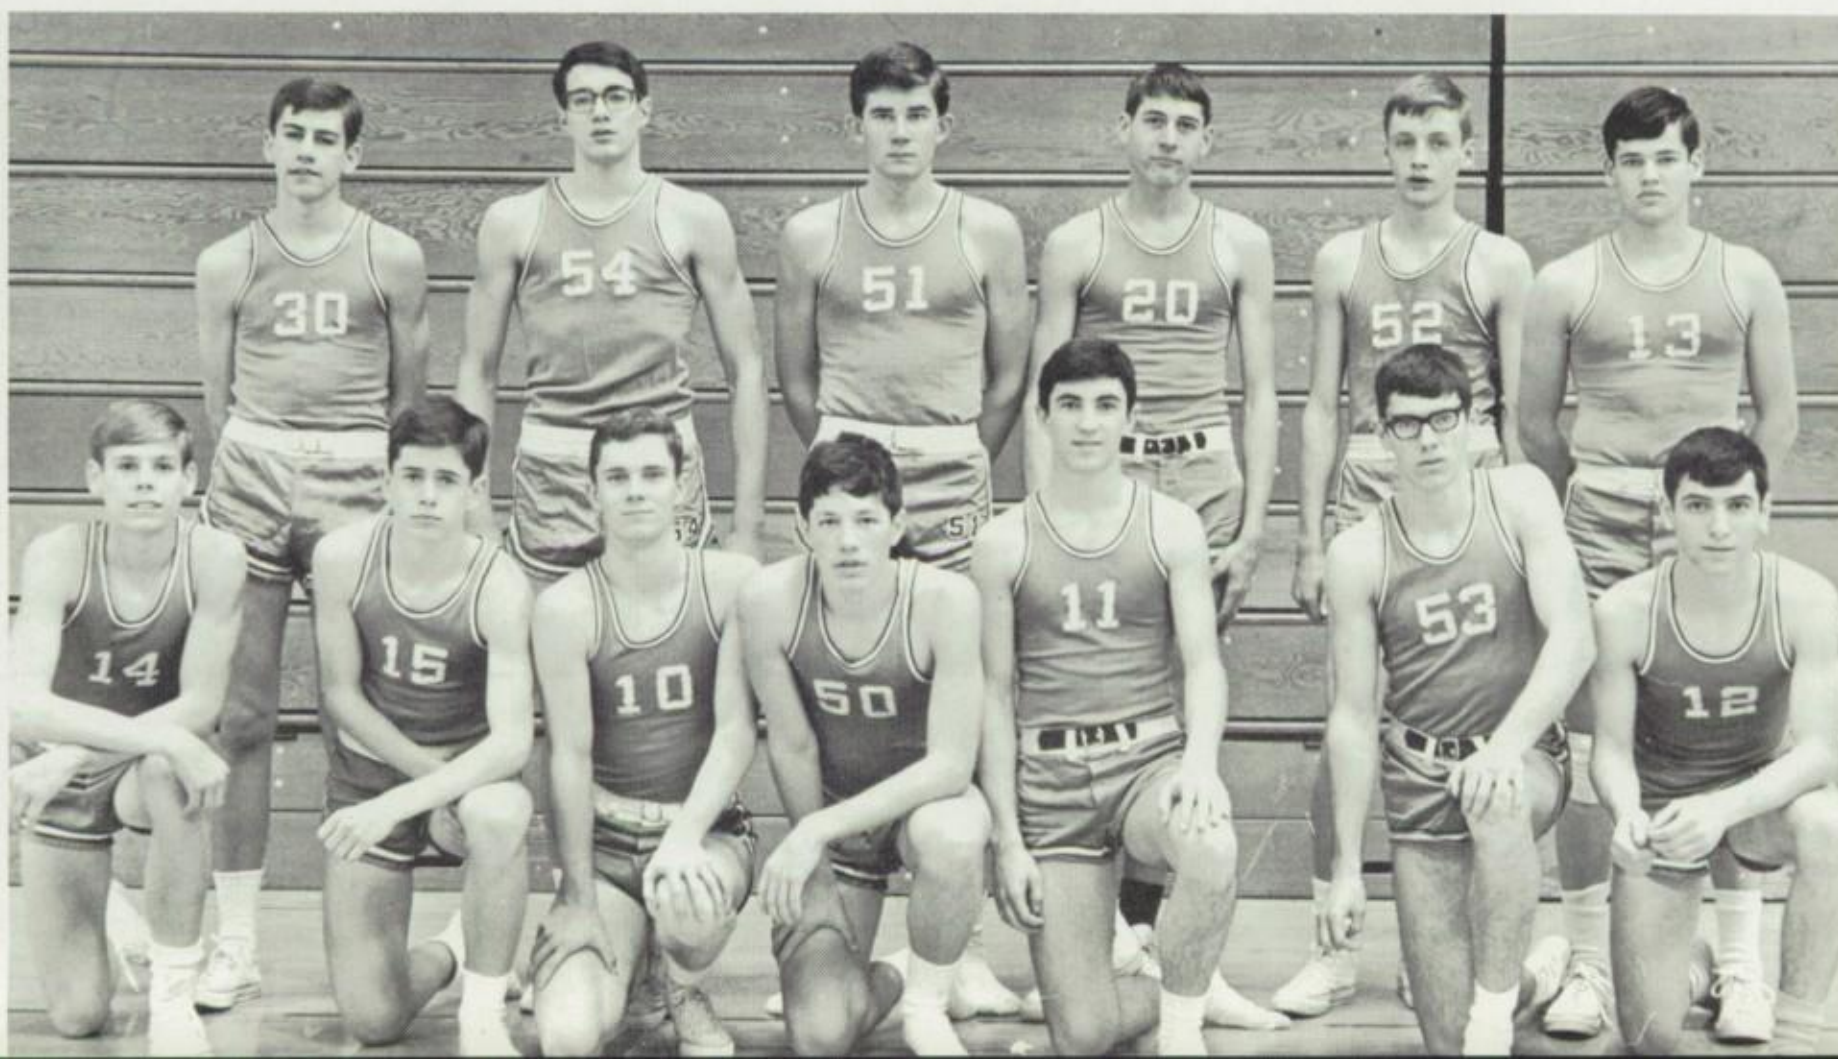

Bill Woodward and Skip Quimby battle for a rebound despite the efforts of two taller Indian foes.

The Lancers' second leading rebounder, junior Steve Rhoades, aggressively pursues the flight of the basketball.

Sophomore Denner Latham smoothly rises for air demonstrating his letter breaststroke form as he races against the clock.

Lancer Swimmers Claim

A second-place finish at the Kansas State Meet climaxed an outstanding season by the Lancer swimming team. Sophomore Jim Jones paced the squad with second place finishes in the 200 and 400-yard freestyles. Other high finishers were Bill Hinson, second in the 200-yd. individual medley and fourth in the 100-yard breaststroke; Steve Brodie, second in the 100-yard breaststroke; and Tom Ellis, Third in the 100-yard freestyle. The 400-yard freestyle and the 200-yard medley relays both took seconds.

East stood undefeated in meet action before the state finale, as they rolled to thirteen straight dual meet victories, first place in the Shawnee-Mission triangular, and first place at the Sunflower League meet. The League meet, saw the tanksters set four new league standards, including a team score of 95 points.

Swimming for the first time in the Johnson County YMCA pool, the squad, coached by Bob Watson and co-captained by Bob James and Tom Ellis, set class, school, pool, and league records whenever they hit the water.

Tracksters Show Strength in Weight Events and Sprints

Senior low hurdler Frank Glasgow skims over one of the barriers in a hotly-contested race with a Topeka trackman.

Head Track Coach Karl Englund displayed hopes that his 1966 squad could capture the Sunflower League championship. The team could be characterized as having few outstanding individuals, many very strong events with good depth, and some very weak events staffed mainly by underclassmen inexperienced in varsity meet action. The overall picture was good.

In the sprints John Mueller, a two-year letterman, was the cream of the crop. Mueller, equally proficient in the 100, 220, and 440, could be counted on for points in each event. His back-up man was junior Bob McGahey, another versatile performer in the short races.

The 880-yard run was paced by junior John Wilson and senior Ron Brown. The milers consisted of Bruce Nelson, Steve Johnson, and Denmet Latham, all underclassmen. When the 2-mile was run, Doug Cozad and Max Miller could be counted on.

In the hurdles senior Frank Glasgow in the lows and junior Larry Gwinn in the lows were expected to be the leading performers.

Distance men Bruce Nelson and Ron Brown stride out in attempting to overtake a West opponent.

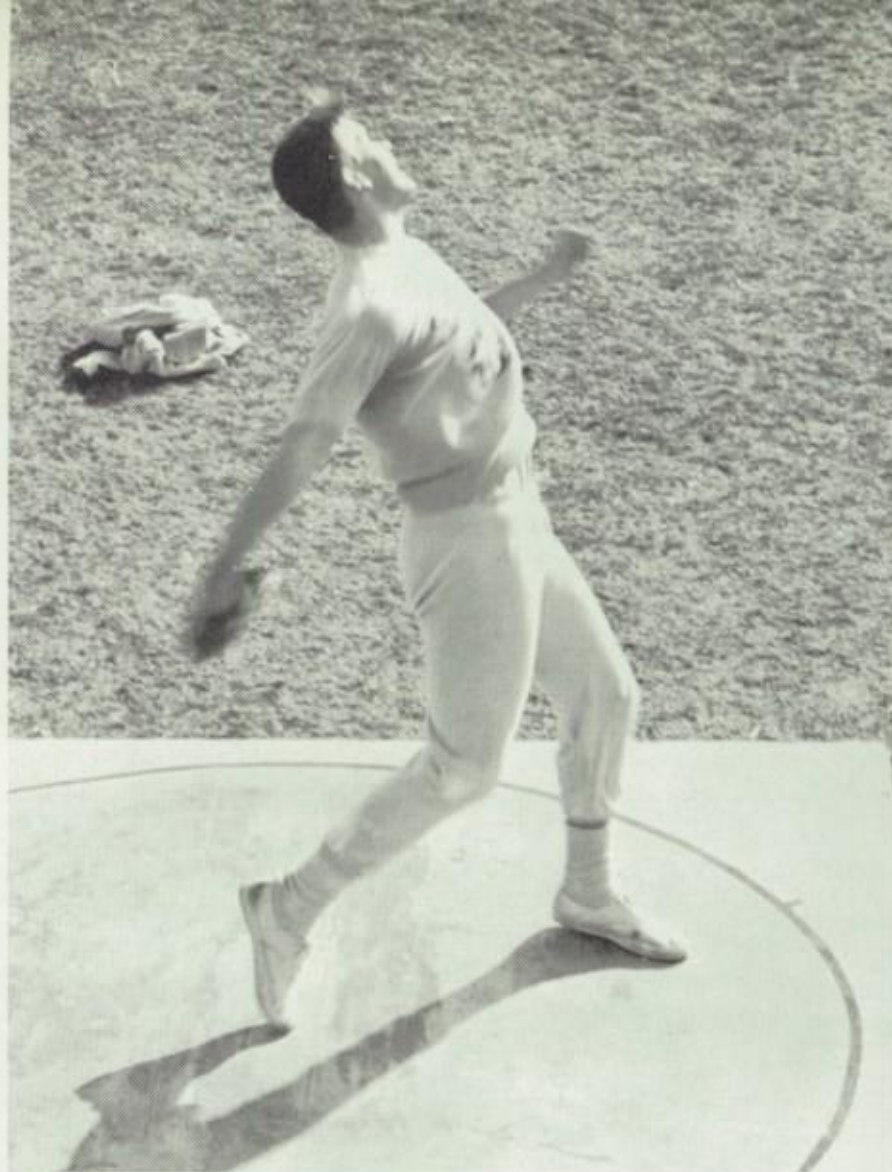

880-star John Wilson finishes with a strong kick to emerge victorious in his event at the Shawnee-Mission East Intersquad Meet.

Lancers Edge Vikings to Claim First Meet Action

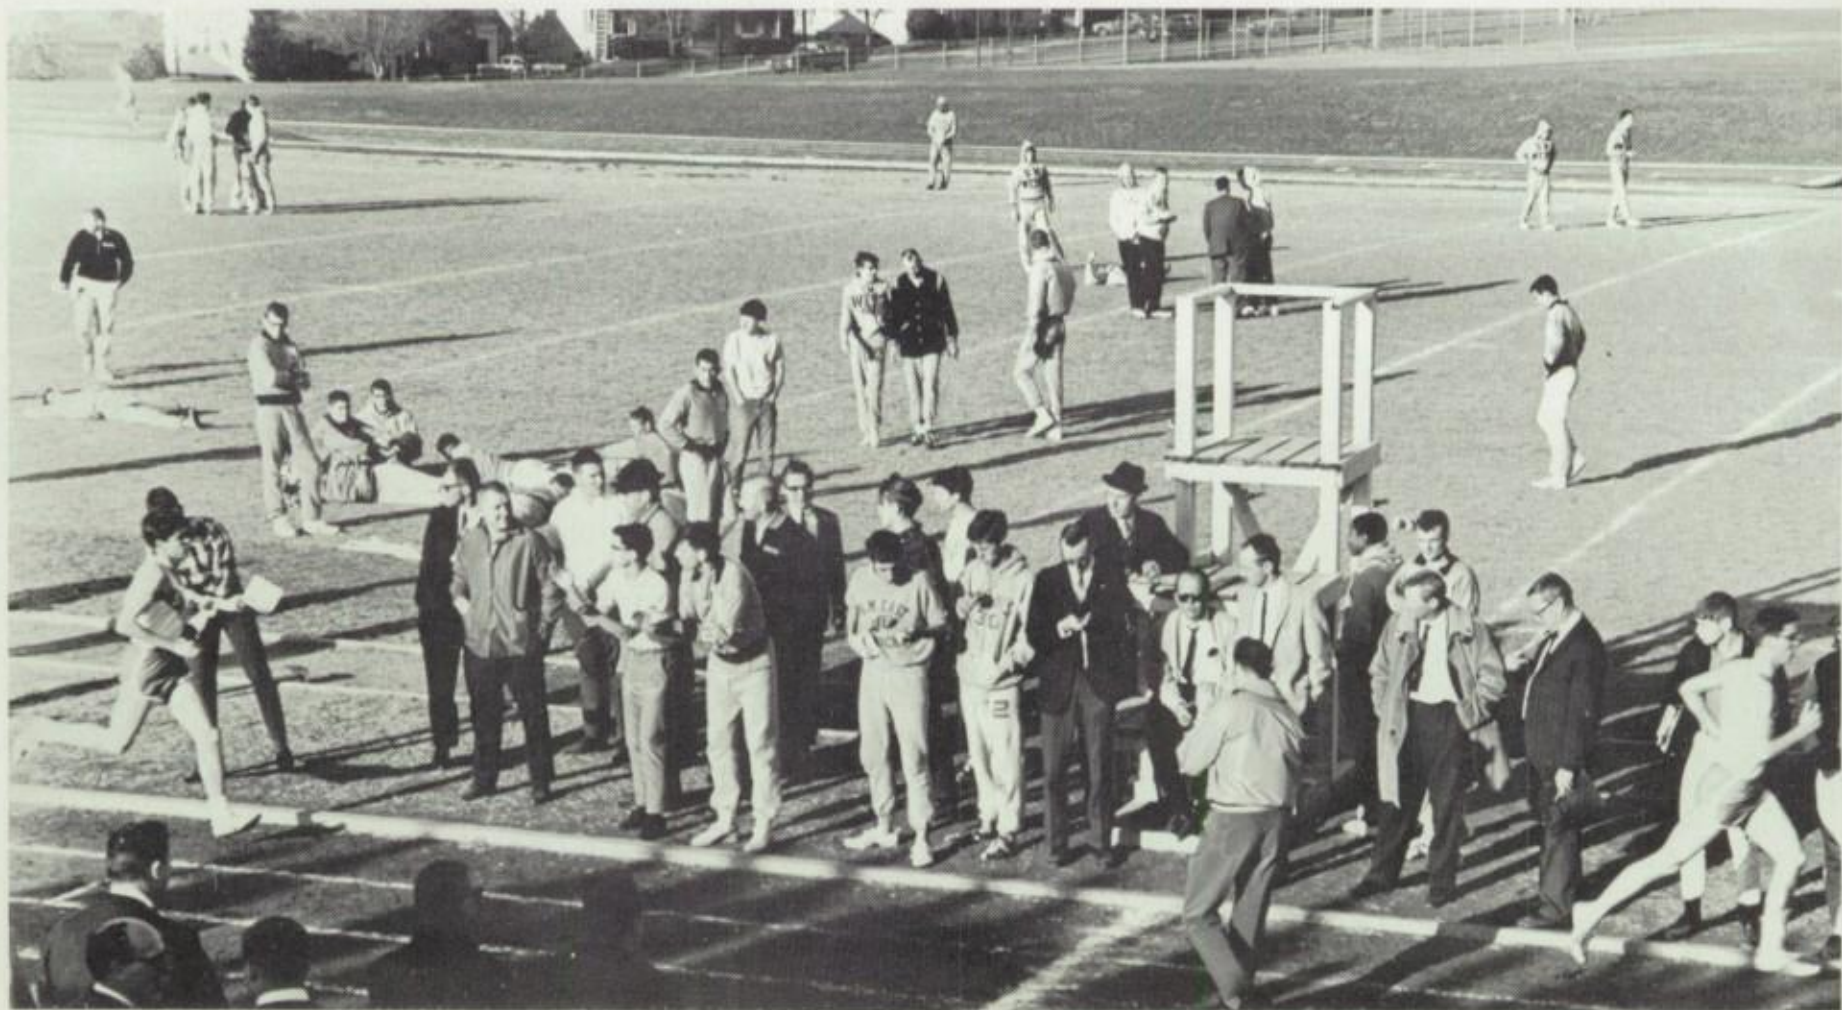

Senior Jon Strahl, school record holder in the high jump at 6'1 $\frac{3}{4}$ ", attempts to clear six feet at the Quadrangular Meet.

Discus thrower Rick Durrett uncorks another 150-foot toss during a weekday practice session of the weight men.

The longest race in high school meets, the 2-mile, is a beehive of activity, as judges call times to Doug Cozad and Jim Forbes.

The field events appeared to be weak, with the exception of the high jump. Jon Strahl, the school record holder, was expected to garner many first places for the squad. While the high jump was strong, the broad jump and the pole vault presented at least an early season weak spot, with neither event boasting of any returning letter winners. Junior Joe Ritz was the top vaulter, while sophomore Jim Hesler and junior Bill Hinson led the way in the long jump.

The weight events were probably the strongest group of events on the schedule. The javelin, discus, and shot put all welcomed back performers from last season. Two lettermen Steve Swayze and Steve Holm, each capable of setting new records in throwing the javelin, returned to earn points in that event. Discus competition faired as well, with Rick Durrett and Grant Alexander. In the last event, the shot put, the Lancer hopes were carried by John Lightner and B.G. Miller. Both putters tossed the 12-pound ball to new lengths.

As the starter positions his guns, hurdlers prepare to spring from the starting blocks to begin the 120-yard course.

Squad Points Toward First

Top Lancer sprinter John Mueller bolts out of the blocks at the start of the Quadrangular 440-yard dash.

A staggered start initiates the action in the 440-yard dash at the interclass meet, after which the various teams are picked.

Lancer Linkmen Drive to Attain Season Goal of Concentrating on form in an attempt to refine his putting game, senior Bob Wells strives for perfection and hopes his ball will hit the flag and sink in the cup to climax the end of a round.

Difficult shots are preferred over penalty strokes by all golfers as senior Mike Vessels demonstrates in attempting to get his ball in play.

Determined to place the ball closer to the cup, Jim Harbrecht blasts out of a sand trap.

Recapturing League Crown

The Lancers opened the 1966 golf season with three returning lettermen, Jim Halstead, Bill Hobstetter, and Bob Wells. These three, plus senior Jim Harbrecht, formed the nucleus of Coach Glenn Saunders' golfmen. Prospects were good for strong finishes in both two and four-man competition. Other standouts counted on for help were senior Mike Vessels and juniors Rick Conner and Tom Smart.

Traveling to Manhattan for their first encounter with active opposition, the linksters emerged with seventh place in the two-man category. The four-man team, composed of the top four golfers, placed ninth. East's clubmen journeyed to Lawrence for the Lawrence Invitational Meet. When the results had been tabulated, the Lancers had captured eighth place in a large field of teams. Highlighting the remainder of the season were the League and State championship meets, and the top-rated Salina and Shawnee-Mission Invitational Tournaments.

Senior Bill Hobstetter displays his place-winning form as he prepares to drive down the fairway.

East's outstanding doubles combination of Jim Ballinger and Glenn Zumbahl combine talents as they converge on the ball.

Senior letterman Jack Bagby concentrates on returning his opponent's serve.

Bob Alloo, junior transfer and the top netman, uses a routine backhand shot in order to return his opponent's serve.

East Tennis Team Looks for Fifth

Two-year letterman Danny Oram shows why he is one of East's top singles players as he displays perfect form in a well executed forehand shot.

McMurtry, Terry Kilroy, Eric Engstrom, Dave Crawford, Bob Wagner, Bob Gibson, Kevin McCall.

Consecutive League Title

Under the direction of second year coach Phil Berg, the 1966 Shawnee Mission East tennis team was equipped with an abundance of talent. With several key performers returning from last year's undefeated squad, chances were favorable that East would repeat in its bid for the Sunflower League crown, in addition to the Regional and State Championships.

This year's squad was strengthened tremendously with the addition of junior Bob Aloo, who was a transfer student from Oregon. Another strong point of the team was two-year letterman Dan Oram. Aloo and Oram both played singles, and led the East tennis team throughout the season. The doubles combination of Glenn Zumbahl and Jim Ballinger were essential to a successful Lancer season.

Senior Jack Bagby, juniors Dick Gochnauer and Bob Plump, and sophomore Chris Henry supplied the needed depth. Following in a tradition of strong tennis this year's team was strong in League, Regional, and State action.

Jim Ballinger uses excellent form and timing in smashing a well placed serve over the net to begin a new volley.

Athletes Participate in

Performing a somersault on the parallel bars, Diane Elson pauses to view the world from a new angle.

Energetic students, interested in extra-curricular sports events, participated in intramurals programs. After school and Saturday morning games gave sports enthusiasts the opportunity for organized competition.

The Girls' Athletic Association, headed by President Marty Dodge and sponsors Mrs. Howard and Miss Pepper, took charge of feminine activities. Girls desiring membership in the G.A.A. went bowling and played table tennis, basketball, field hockey, and softball to meet point requirements. Monthly meetings enabled officers to plan interschool athletic days, financed by dues and concession stand profits.

Saturday morning intramurals offered boys a chance for exercise on a team level. The Student Congress Intramurals Committee and Mr. B. Davis arranged basketball schedules to encourage spirit among thirty teams.

Physical education teachers sponsored intramurals programs to help participants increase their knowledge of game technicalities while applying rules of good sportsmanship.

G.A.A. and Intramural Games

The stakes may not be the Sunflower League championship, but these intramural cagers are doing their utmost to win this game.

Decked out in the latest gymnasium wear, intramurals participants vie for their class championship.

Four senior basketball players prepare for action, while four of their teammates struggle for possession of a rebound in exciting Saturday morning action.

Uncertain about the legality of a play, John Shultz waits before deciding.

Sophomores Initiate Preparations for Future Successes

CLASS OFFICERS: Mike Grinberg, president; Cora Mae Christine, vice-president; Perry Paterson, treasurer; Karen Reeder, secretary.

Blending into school life smoothly, sophomores adjusted and began contributing significantly to school activities. Neither the beginning of more complex high school days nor the advanced academic studies proved too great a challenge for the class.

After first week trials of locating classes and traveling crowded stairways, underclassmen accepted the responsibility of electing officers and voicing their opinions. Represented by executives Mike Grinberg, President; Cora Christine, Vice-President; Karen Reeder, Secretary; and Perry Patterson, Treasurer; the class of 1968 firmly established themselves, eager to take advantage of academic, athletic, and social preparation for a successful future.

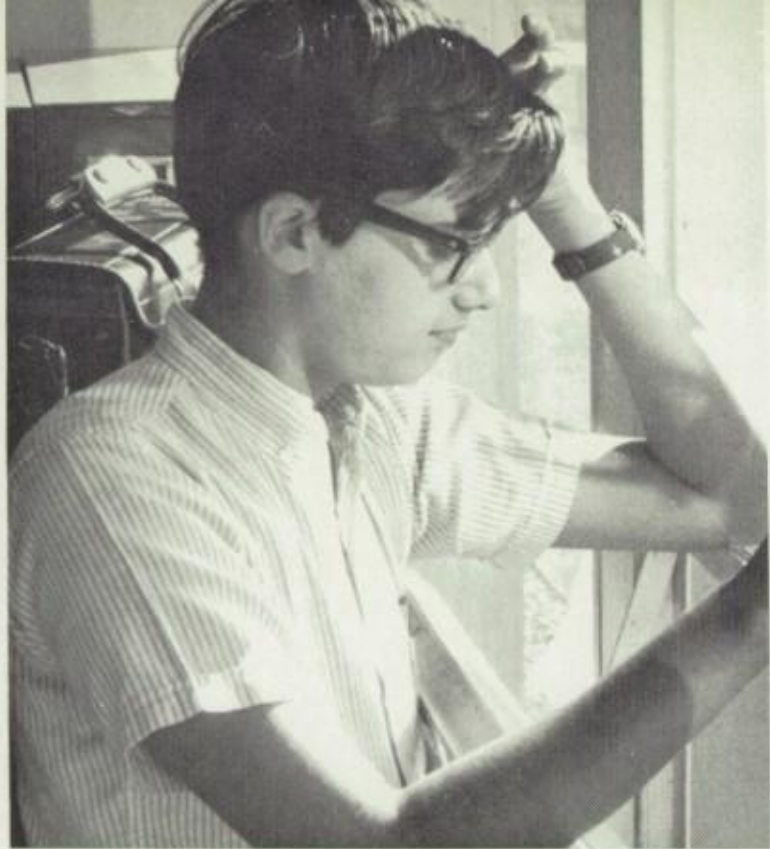

Whether through participating in varsity athletics, cheering the junior varsity teams, or voicing an opinion in the Harbinger - sophomores' efforts became known to upperclassmen.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS—Mark Robinson, president; Martha Montello, secretary; Trudy Ritter, treasurer; Carol Irion, vice-president.

Reaching the half-way mark of their years at Shawnee Mission East, juniors passed the turning point and began the ascent into the second half of their high school career.

Beginning preparation for college, students concentrated on keeping scholastic averages high, making good scores on pre-college and achievement tests, and being active and interested in school activities. Leading the class of 1967 was Mark Robinson, President, who presided at junior assemblies. Carol Irion, Vice-president, was overall chairman for the Junior-Senior Prom. Martha Montello, Secretary, was in charge of invitations to the Prom. Trudy Ritter, Treasurer, collected junior class dues and figured the expenses of the Prom.

By the end of the year, an increased work load and added responsibilities had prepared juniors to take the big step that would put them on the top rung of the high school ladder.

Neither Here nor There, Juniors Prepare for Seniority

Wishing to display his knowledge of the Victorian poets, Jerry Hill raises his hand emphatically.

Perched high above her subject, Mary Coble sketches a dimensional outline in order to practice shading.

Graduation Completes Twelve Years of Formal Learning

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS—Stevie Twin, treasurer; Tim Whitsitt, president; Dana Brekke, secretary; Karen Erickson, vice-president.

Beginning their last year of high school, seniors filled leadership positions. On Hauberk and Harbinger, editors pursued literary goals by managing staffs and meeting deadlines. Athletes and actors represented their class at sports events and on stage. Student Congress officers presided over meetings, setting examples for future sophomore and junior leaders.

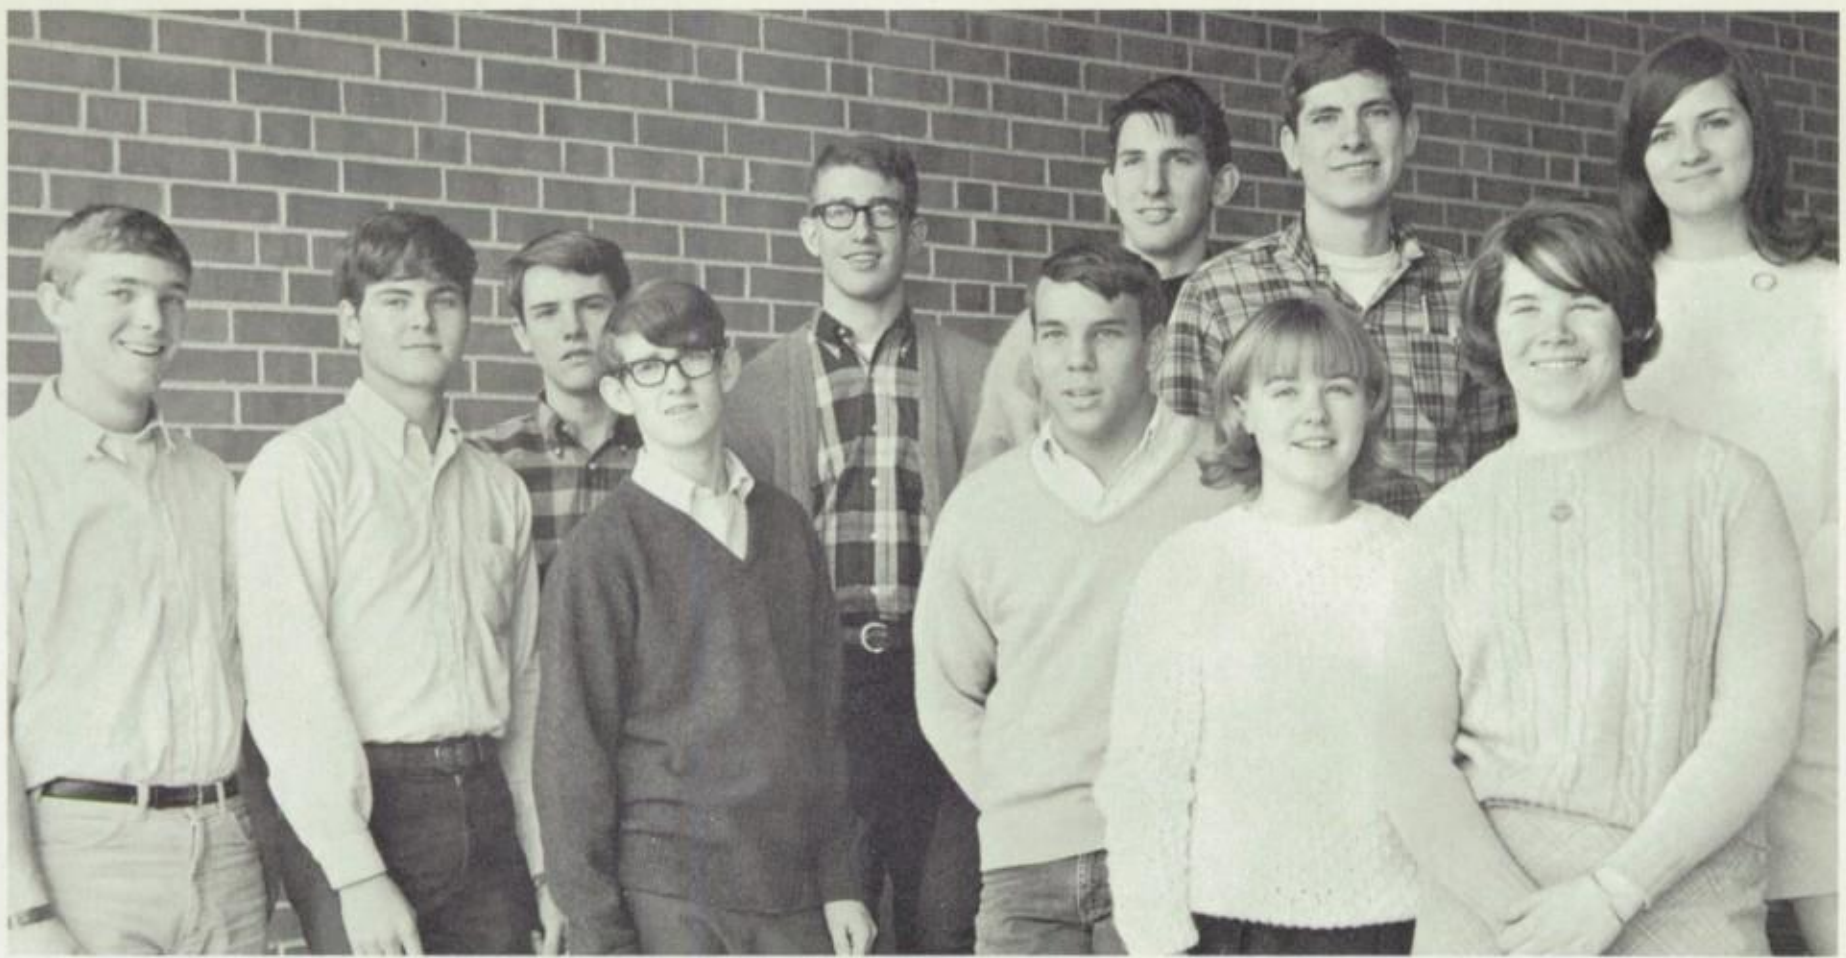

Senior courses prepared students for the future. Citizenship studies increased understanding of government and politics, as chemistry and calculus provided necessary backgrounds for college courses in science and mathematics.

Collecting dues, selecting a senior gift, planning a unique senior assembly, organizing an evaluation committee, and ordering announcements for graduation exercises, President Tim Whitsitt, Vice-President Karen Erickson, Secretary Dana Brekke, and Treasurer Stevie Twin combined leadership and ideas as they strived to make their class—the class of 1966—one remembered by all who followed.

In an assembly of excited anticipation, fifteen beauties are called before the entire student body as candidates for homecoming queen.

ban, Bill Hook, Glenn Zumbahl, Jill Vance, Rusty Leffel, Mickey Sloan, Craig "Doc" Morey, Steve Kunz, Kip Gatchell, Dave Graham, Tom Luzier, Jim Aiken, Jim Ward, Tom Ellis.

Clutching a familiar Thirty Days to a More Powerful Vocabulary, senior Lanny Burdick takes his daily constitutional.

Counting their remaining days of servitude, seniors anxiously await graduation exercises and freedom.

Who were the 1966 Seniors?      Who were the leaders?

Ignoring several distracting side conversations, Craig Killmar utilizes a study period during English to help fulfill his 900 page requirement for that six-weeks.

Janice Latham, head cheerleader this year, repeats last year's attention getting pose at an early football game.

We were.

Abandoning her books, pocketbook, and winter coat, Andi Leibman carefully plans her thought before beginning the statement of her theme for next hour's English class.

Hesitating outside the auditorium before going home to chemistry problems, Jerry Weakley examines the sky to see if the first snow of the year will postpone school the next day.

... there you'll find Vendo automatic merchandisers, now in more than 60 nations of the free world... serving everything from snacks to complete hot or cold meals. They're on the job, day in and day out, in schools, offices, industrial plants, colleges, hospitals, theatres, transportation terminals, recreation areas... and more.

We've come a long way since we first developed a self-service, coin-operated cooler for bottled beverages in 1937. But we believe that the best is yet to come.

The first snowfall of the year causes three mighty girls to assist their weak, defenseless escort.

Providing a dry means of transportation on a rainy morning, buses and cars line the curb prior to unloading.

Proud -

I wanted to write this poem in your yearbook because it expressed so perfectly what I wanted to say to you.

"You entered my life in a casual way
And saw at a glance what I needed;
There were others who passed me or met me each day,
But never a one of them heeded.
Perhaps you were thinking of other folks more,
Or chance simply seemed to decree it;
I know there were many such chances before,
But the others - well, they didn't see it.

"You said just the thing that I wished you would say,
And you made me believe that you meant it;
I held up my head in the old gallant way,
And resolved you should never repent it.
There are times when encouragement means such a lot,
And a word is enough to convey it;
There were others who could have, as easy as not -
But, just the same, they didn't say it."

There's more to this poem but I think I've written enough of it to get my idea across.

When I first came to SM East I didn't know anyone. During my sophomore year I met lots of people & made friends & the kind you say "hi" to in the halls.

Then this year, I really made some friends. When we went to that basketball game at North, I felt like I finally had some friends & belonged at SM East. I'll never forget Sue's surprise party, the Senior Day breakfast, & the way you included me at your lunch table. Thank you so much for just being yourself & making me so happy. Love, Mimi

I'm glad Mrs. Tuff moved me next to you. It's been a lot of F-U-N. I guess this is an appropriate time to thank you for all your help in Français — maybe we can help each other out next year, too!
You're really a sweet kid, Pris — don't ever change!

Love ya,
Pam Richmond

Dear Pris,
I think you are one of the nicest
girls I know. I have a feeling you will
go far in life.
Have fun next year.
I hope to have you
in some of my classes.

Pris, I've enjoyed having you in English & Am history. You're a great kid. Congratula- tions on your team! Good luck always! Barbara Meyer

I love you! I guess you've caught on! That or you're very slow!

Dear Pris, We've become much closer this year than we ever have before & I'm really glad about this. Congratulations on your team! You'll be great! Much love, Jane Seifert ## letter from the editor. . .

When we were considering themes for the 1966 Hauber, the idea came to us that a year is more than a combination of days and events. It is the everyday experiences and expressions of each student and teacher that build a school year and its memories—the joy, the frustration, the excitement, the pride, the anger, the tension, the laughter. . . We knew there would be a myriad of individual moods during the year 1965-66. And we knew there would be special moods all of us would share. So the Hauber staff has tried to preserve some of the moods that have made this past year.

Our experiences in compiling the 1966 Hauber ranged from ridiculous to sublime. There were times when the job seemed impossible, and at least once we all shared Laura's feelings the day she went home, threw her '65 Hauber on the floor, and stomped on it. There was the night Bonnie and Rogene stayed up until 2 a.m. to finish the ads, only to learn the deadline wasn't the next day after all. Francie was breathing a sigh of relief after the first deadline when she learned the count on the headlines hadn't worked, and they had to be redone. Then there was the week right before the second deadline when Sally discovered the sophomore pictures needed to be reprinted, but it was too late to send them back to Rolland's and Garry's enlarger broke halfway through the job. Each time we reached the depths of despair, something happened to provide the needed comic relief. Once in the confusion before a deadline, Sara Wolfe mailed two pictures to Georgia along with the request for plastic cover prices. Another time Garry rushed out to take pictures of the fire in the chemistry lab. At the end of the day, after we'd passed on his descriptions of the holocaust, he admitted he'd been joking. When we saw a silhouette in a magazine that we wanted to try, Lu had the task of tactfully stalling nine boys while we tried to study their profiles. Then we decided against the picture. Tom was the one who never succumbed to the bedlam. None of the setbacks threw him, even though he had to take some pictures himself.

The thirty of us have combined our talents to produce this Hauber for you, and we've shared the rewards of creating it. We've come to love this book, and if you cherish it even half as much as we do, we'll be more than satisfied.

Pris,
I hope Sara won't mind me writing under her picture. I'd write under mine only there isn't much space. I'm really glad that I got to know you this year. We've had a lot of fun, and I hope that I can see a lot of you this summer & next year. Congratulations on making dull team & National Honor Society. I know that your senior year will be a big success. Best wishes always—

Maren

This somehow I haven't seen you
 twirling the baton
 very often — only two hours a day. I'll have to imagine how dreamy
 this year would have been without you at all. Soul

Our year has ended.
 Looking at the past and to the future, we see experiences, people, and ideas,
 but most of all, moods. . .
 gradually developing assurance in sophomores. . .
 competence in juniors. . .
 responsibility in seniors. . .
 pride in our academic, athletic,
 and social accomplishments. . .
 eager preparation for the future. . .
 the fun of Batman. . .
 the finality of Commencement. . .
 dawning realization that we have lived another year and reached another plateau. . .
 glowing association with the name
Shawnee Mission East Lancers . . . celebration as we "get
 outta this place". . .
 memories of three of the best years of our lives—now past, but through pictures and words, remembered. . . .

At Shawnee Mission East, 1965-1966,
 Our moods were all these, and more.

But always,
 The mood was nostalgia.

Pris,
I just don't know what to say. It's been really great knowing you this year and I just had a great time in English after do a great job of twirling and keep up the good work next year - Tell Charley to drag you down to the Club sometime and maybe I'll see you there. Stay Great and have a good senior year. Have a wild summer too.
Friends always, Nooby

Pris - Thank for setting with Sarah & improving her, although table manners. Good luck, but a winner!
you hardly need it with your grades!
Stick with Charley, M. J. Mahey

Pris - It's sure
has been fun
knowing you
in gym this year. It's been a long time since Mr. Johnson's class. Don't forget
Mrs. Howard and ME! I hope English and the Unified you're in some of my classes next year.
Good luck and do
always on drill
well on drill
Barb

Pris,
It's been great
being in French class together this year. You are an inspiration for my study habits. I will always admire you. Good luck it whatever you do.
Lots of Luck Again,
Arlene Kaplan

Pris;
Congradulations
I'm so happy
about drill team!
Pris, you're such a great person and so pretty!! I'm not kidding! Good luck
next year with everything. W.H.S.
Drill Team,
Twirling. You're
just great Pris and have been a wonderful friend

 Sarah
Farney

My dearest Pris,

I know you have other people who want to sign your yearbook, so I'll try and make it short - although it's almost impossible. Because of you, Pris, this school year has been my most profitable ever. I never dreamed I would come to know as sweet and wonderful a person as you - you're done and meant so much to me - and I'm sh, so grateful!

Until meeting you, Pris, I was living in sort of a closed world - not knowing what to say to people - especially you guys (girls). But somehow, you're enabled me to become capable of meeting people and really becoming interested in things. (I never realized one person could do so much for me - we really needed it!) You've been such a great help. (THANKS)

A year ago today, I didn't know what the devil a Priscilla Lee Patrick was. But, now that I do, I can't possibly figure out how I made it without her - she's always near when I need her most (she's here other times too)

I know I've made her wonder about me alot - keeping her up till 2 in the morning, teasing her all the time - not ~~clearly~~ telling her things by just saying "Nevermind" - & for all these (and more) I'm sorry Pris. I just can't help it, being around as cute, helpful, considerate, tender, and all 'round great kid as you.

You're really done alot for me, Pris, and by now I'm sure you know how much I appreciate it, and especially, you. (You're so, so undescrivable)

So, (now that I've consumed all this space), I want to ask you to put up with me some more - if it's possible, and to try and understand the motions going on inside this kid. He's mixed up in a world of pure delight and wonderfulness - you.

I love you Pris, for every thing,
Your follower, & forever always,

P.S. - Keep up that fantastic academic work too (don't let my slow it down)
Adios, por siempre.

Charles

Pris,

I can't help counting my luck stars for meeting such nice people like you and Charlie. How can I forget the fun you stimulated in History. Your wide and happy smile walking into Mr. Hess' classroom gave me a secure and confident feeling (?)

For years and years to come I'll think back and chuckle about our sophisticated dinner at the KC Club - Charlie's "Yeecawwum" as the poky old waiters walked by; you're sly and saucy nose rub for a curious old man staring at your plate; my slip of the tongue as I told Helen Tyler that her formal fit "different" (?) on Martha. And then I'll remember the beautiful decorations of the beat from the school will ever see: "You and Martha looked like little princesses in your formal gowns - and I looked like a well-dressed gorilla."

Although you don't want to remember it - I will remember the curious plight of the sniffing disease - for which a spoon was the only cure.

By the way - you play a mean game of pool in your own right.

I know you'll enjoy the most wonderful memories of anyone in the coming year, and I hope I may be a part of them. I'll see ya this summer. God Bless you

Mark
Merriman

{ Sorry for taking up
so much space,
Me again
THANK YOU SO MUCH,
I've REALLY Needed You.
(Hope it sounds RIGHT )
